the less of it people will do in an economic analysis that covers such topics as price discrimination and corporatescandals since the start of time man has been searching for ways to live a productive and meaningful life everyone goes through this thought process either consciously or subconsciously the key to finding that answer is to begin asking the right questions a great starting point for asking the right questions is a question i asked myself thirty years ago that question was what are my core values principles or beliefs in other words what is truly important to me i simplified that question to this what do i believe going through answering that question led to the creation of my personal i believe list this was by far one of the most meaningful and life changing experiences in my life my only regret is i didn't ask that question till i was forty four regardless of your age asking the question what do i believe and creating your personal i believe list will be one of the most important questions and activities you can do to position yourself to living the productive and meaningful life we all long for the question a guide to answering life's most important question shares my journey of answering that question and then how i used my responses to guide me on each day's adventure called life buying a car can be a smart idea a car loses the lion's share of its value when it is driven off the new car lot so why let someone else take that loss but buyer beware a used car is likely to need more repairs and may come with a short warranty or none at all in addition used cars may lack the latest safety features that is why it is so important for consumers to do extensive research so they can avoid all of the potential pitfalls of buying a used car the auto experts at consumer reports have done the work for you and have compiled their extensive research and report their findings into the 2007 edition of used car buying guide this fabulous tool will help
