Finding Our Sea-Legs 2019-09-27

for millennia philosophers have spun tales about goodness and badness without reaching any agreement finding our sea legs takes a new approach to old debates it draws on philosophy and storytelling to explore ethics not as a means of finding our way back to safe harbour but as a way of acclimatising ourselves to life on the seas of uncertainty

Hello, Stranger: Stories of Connection in a Divided World 2021-07-01

we navigate our interactions with strangers according to a host of unwritten rules rituals and sometimes awkward attempts at politeness but what if the people we meet were not a problem but a gift when philosopher and traveller will buckingham s partner died he sought solace in throwing open the door to new people now as we reflect on our experiences of the pandemic and its enforced separations and as global migration figures ever more prominently in our collective future buckingham brings together insights from philosophy anthropology history and literature to explore how our traditions of meeting the other can mitigate the issues of our time taking in stories of loneliness exile and friendship from classical times to the modern day and alighting in adapting communities from birmingham to myanmar hello stranger asks how do we set aside our instinctive xenophobia fear of outsiders and embrace our equally natural philoxenia love of strangers and newness
