finalist for the los angeles times book prize a new york times editor s choice a grounded bracingly intelligent study nature prizewinning science journalist sonia shah presents a startling examination of the pandemics that have ravaged humanity and shows us how history can prepare us to confront the most serious acute global health emergency of our time over the past fifty years more than three hundred infectious diseases have either emerged or reemerged appearing in places where they ve never before been seen years before the sudden arrival of covid 19 ninety percent of epidemiologists predicted that one of them would cause a deadly pandemic sometime in the next two generations it might be ebola avian flu a drug resistant superbug or something completely new like the novel virus the world is confronting today while it was impossible to predict the emergence of sars cov 2 and it remains impossible to predict which pathogen will cause the next global outbreak by unraveling the stories of pandemics past we can begin to better understand our own future and to prepare for what it holds in store in pandemic tracking contagions from cholera to ebola and beyond sonia shah interweaves history original reportage and personal narrative to explore the origins of epidemics drawing parallels between cholera one of history s most deadly and disruptive pandemic causing pathogens and the new diseases that stalk humankind today she tracks each stage of cholera s dramatic journey from its emergence in the south asian hinterlands as a harmless microbe to its rapid dispersal across the nineteenth century world all the way to its latest beachhead in haiti along the way she reports on the pathogens now following in cholera s footsteps from the mrsa bacterium that besieges her own family to the never before seen killers coming out of china s wet markets the surgical wards of new delhi and the suburban backyards of the east coast delving into the convoluted science strange politics and checkered history of one of the world s deadliest diseases pandemic is a work of epidemiological history like no other with urgent lessons for our own time shah proves a disquieting virgil guiding us through the hells ruled by infectious diseases the power of shah s account lies in her ability to track simultaneously the multiple dimensions of the public health crises we are facing the chicago tribune this book is concerned with both the national security concerns of asian maritime nations and the security of the asian maritime commons these are defined as the pacific and indian oceans and associated seas bays and gulfs with their included sea lines of communication slocs the most useful geographical designation for maritime asia is the indo pacific bernard cole provides both a survey of the maritime strategies of the primary nations of the indo pacific region and an evaluation of the domestic and international politics that drive those strategies the united states canada russia japan north korea south korea china the philippines brunei indonesia vietnam singapore malaysia myanmar india pakistan iran the smaller indian ocean and persian gulf states are all surveyed and analyzed the united states japan china and india not surprisingly draw the most attention given their large modern navies and distant strategic reach the author concludes that the united states remains the dominant maritime power in this huge region stretching from canada to the persian gulf despite its lack of a traditionally strong merchant marine u s maritime power remains paramount due primarily to its dominant navy the chinese naval modernization program deservedly receives a good deal of public attention but cole argues that on a day to day basis the japanese maritime self defense force as its navy is named is the most powerful maritime force in far eastern waters while the modernizing indian navy potentially dominates the indian ocean in fact a focus of this work is the exemplary description of all the region s navies with the author noting the naval arms race that is underway particularly in the area of submarine acquisition cole is careful to couch this phenomenon in the regional concerns about chinese naval expansion and the desire to ensure a continued massive u s naval presence the current naval developments in the region evince elements of a naval arms race but lack the coherent maritime strategies to make naval developments dangerous to regional peace and security most telling will be whether united states power and focus remain on the region while adjusting to continued chinese maritime power in a way acceptable to both nations no other current or recent work provides such a complete description of the indo pacific region s navies and maritime strategies while analyzing the current and future impact of those forces
