The Shape of Things to Come 2007-08-21 from the author of mystery train and lipstick traces an exhilarating and provocative investigation of the tangle of american identity america is a place and a story made up of exuberance and suspicion crime and liberation lynch mobs and escapes its greatest testaments are made of portents and warnings biblical allusions that lose all certainty in the american air it is this story of self invention and nationhood that greil marcus rediscovers beginning with john winthrop s invocation of america as a city on the hill lincoln s second inaugural address and martin luther king jr s speech about his american dream listening to these prophetic founding statements marcus explores america s promise as a new jerusalem and the nature of its covenant first with god and then with its own citizens in the nineteenth century this vision of the nation s story was told in public as part of common discourse to be fought over in plain speech and flights of gorgeous rhetoric since then marcus argues it has become cryptic a story told more in art than in politics he traces it across the continent and through time hearing the tale in the disparate voices of writers filmmakers performers and actors philip roth david lynch david thomas allen ginsberg sheryl lee and bill pullman in the shape of things to come the future and the past merge in extraordinary and uncanny ways and marcus proves once again that he is our most imaginative and original cultural critic

The Ongoing End: On the Limits of Apocalyptic Narrative 2018-11-08 the world keeps turning to apocalypticism time is imagined as proceeding ineluctably to a catastrophic perhaps revelatory conclusion even when evacuated of distinctly religious content a broadly ecclesial structure persists in conceptions of our precarious life and our collective journey to an inevitable fate the extinction of the human species it is commonly believed that we are propelled along this course by human turpitude myopia hubris or ignorance and by the irreparable damage we have wrought to the world we inhabit yet this apprehension is insidious such teleological convictions and crises laden narratives lead us to undervalue contingent hesitant and provisional forms of experience and knowledge the essays comprising this volume concern a range of writers engagements with apocalyptic reasoning extending from a reading of percy bysshe shelley s triumph of life to critiques of contemporary american novels they examine the ways in which end times reasoning can inhibit imaginative reflection blunt political advocacy or more positively provide a repertoire for the critique of complacency by gathering essays concerning a wide range of periods and literary dispositions this volume makes an important contribution to thinking about apocalypticism in literature but also as a social and political discourse this book was originally published as a special issue of studies in neophilology

Religious Imaging in Millennialist America 2018-09-19 ashley crawford investigates how such figures as ben marcus matthew barney and david lynch among other artists novelists and film directors utilize religious themes and images via christianity judaism and mormonism to form essentially mutated variations of mainstream belief systems he seeks to determine what drives contemporary artists to deliver implicitly religious imagery within a secular context particularly how religious heritage and language and the mutations within those have impacted american culture to partake in an aesthetic of apocalypticism that

Symbolism 15 2015-10-16 while paratexts among them headnotes footnotes or endnotes have never been absent from american literature the last two decades have seen an explosion of the phenomenon including mock scholarly footnotes to an extent that they seem to take over the text itself in this special focus we shall attempt to find the reasons for this astonishing development in our first diachronic section we shall explore such texts as might have fostered the present boom from fictions by edgar allan poe to vladimir nabokov to mark z danielewski the second synchronic section will concentrate on paratexts by david foster wallace perhaps the father of the post postmodern footnote as well as those to be found in novels by bennett sims jennifer egan and junot diaz among others it appears that while paratexts definitely point to a high degree of self reflexivity in the author they equally draw attention to the textual and authorial functions of the works in which they exist they can thus cause a reflection on the boundaries between genres like fiction faction and autobiography as well as serving to highlight a host of pedagogical and social concerns that exist in the interstices between fiction and reality
