development studies is in a state of flux a new generation of scholars has come to reject what was once regarded as accepted wisdom and increasingly regard development and globalization as part of a continuum with colonialism premised on the same reductionist assumption that progress and growth are objective facts that can be fostered measured assessed and controlled drawing on a variety of theoretical perspectives and approaches this book explores the ways in which social movements in the global south are rejecting western centric notions of development and modernization as well as creating their own alternatives by assessing development theories from the perspective of subaltern groups and movements the contributors posit a new notion of development from below one in which these movements provide new ways of imagining social transformation and a way out of the developmental dead end that has so far characterized post development approaches beyond colonialism development and globalization therefore represents a radical break with the prevailing narrative of modernization and points to a bold new direction for development studies

this is an open access title available under the terms of a cc by nc nd 4 0 international licence it is free to read at oxford scholarship online and offered as a free pdf download from oup and selected open access locations eu member states lose hundreds of billions of euros to tax evasion every year tax crimes have a significant impact on the functioning of national and international economies and on the global financial system not only do they affect the actors involved and the state that has been deprived of tax revenues but the citizens of those states suffer too tax crimes and enforcement in the european union presents the findings of the eu funded protax project chapters written by leading experts discuss eu and national legal measures and institutional practices to counter anti money laundering corruption organised crime and tax evasion human factors and their role in countering tax crimes are also considered as well as whistleblower protection legislation which gives readers a rounded view of current practices within the eu this book provides a timely and valuable comparative study of the legal and institutional background of the prosecution of tax crimes as well as an analysis of legal measures and institutional practices to combat tax crimes on national and eu levels it also contributes to the development of an advanced european security model for understanding human factors in countering tax crimes it equips policy makers and law enforcement agencies with the dynamic toolkit they need to improve their understanding of tax crimes in the eu and provides solutions for preventing detecting and investigating tax crimes

this book provides an innovative insight into the regulatory conundrum of genetically modified organisms gmos deploying transnational legal analysis as a methodological framework to explore the most controversial area of risk governance the book deconstructs hegemonic and counter hegemonic transnational narratives on the governance of gmo risks cutting across us law eu law the wto agreement on sanitary and phytosanitary measures and hybrid standard setting regimes should uncertain risks be run unless adverse effects have been conclusively established and should regulators only act where this is cost benefit effective should risk managers make a convincing case that a product or process is safe enough for the relevant uncertain risks to be socially acceptable how can intractable transnational regulatory conflicts be solved the book complements a close analysis of regulatory frameworks and case law with a more encompassing perspective on the political socio economic and distributional implications of different approaches to the regulation of health and environmental risks at times of globalisation the gmo deadlock thus becomes a lens through which to investigate the underlying value systems goals and impacts of transnational discourses on risk governance against this backdrop the normative strand of analysis points to the limited ability of science and procedural deliberation to generate authentic agreement and to identify normatively legitimate solutions in the absence of pre existing shared perspectives

Position Paper for the International Financial Reporting Forum to Debate the IASC's Comparability Project 1988

this book analyses how digital transformation disrupts established patterns of world politics moving international relations ir increasingly towards digital international relations this volume examines technological agential and ordering processes that explain this fundamental change the contributors trace how digital disruption changes the international world we live in ranging from security to economics from human rights advocacy to deep fakes and from diplomacy to international law the book makes two sets of contributions first it shows that the ongoing digital revolution profoundly changes every major dimension of international politics second focusing on the interplay of technology agency and order it provides a framework for explaining these changes the book also provides a map for adjusting the study of international politics to studying international relations making a case for upgrading augmenting and rewiring the discipline theory follows practice in international relations but if the discipline wants to be able to meaningfully analyse the present and come up with plausible scenarios for the future it must not lag too far behind major transformations of the world that it studies this book facilitates that theoretical journey this book will be of much interest to students of cyber politics politics and technology and international relations

world bank technical paper no 356 the fragmentation in african financial markets and its persistence despite reforms to liberalize those markets have been difficult to explain this paper reports findings from surveys of formal and informal institutions and their clients in ghana malawi nigeria and tanzania to test hypotheses explaining different aspects of fragmentation which occurs when different market segments are poorly linked and interest rate differentials cannot be fully explained by differences in costs and risks the study concludes that financial development strategies and world bank operations supporting them should explicitly include informal and semi formal financial institutions to improve the extent and efficiency of financial intermediation in the medium term
