recounts the career of a top fbi operative who worked on the cases of many famous serial killers mikita brottman wonders just why is reading so great it s a solitary practice one that takes away from time that could be spent developing important social networking skills reading s not required for health happiness or a loving family and if reading is so important why are catchy slogans like reading changes lives and champions read needed to hammer the point home fearlessly tackling the notion that nonreaders are doomed to lives of despair and mental decay brottman makes the case that the value of reading lies not in its ability to ward off alzheimer s or that it s a pleasant hobby rather she argues that like that other well known solitary vice masturbation reading is ultimately not an act of pleasure but a tool for self exploration one that allows people to see the world through the eyes of others and lets them travel deep into the darkness of the human condition in our future is our past a young man named seven awakens on a deserted street stricken by an amnesia that he can t explain when he discovers other survivors that share his affliction among them a woman who stirs his dormant memories they embark on a deadly journey across a ruined landscape haunted by the mystery of their city s apocalyptic demise and hunted by a malevolent beast seven and his companions discover the dark truth of their past what awaits the survivors at the crux of myth and legacy is a story of love loss and triumph that defies even death itself who are we where is the boundary between us and everything else are we all multiple personalities and how can we control who we become from distinguished psychologist robert levine comes this provocative and entertaining scientific exploration of the most personal and important of all landscapes the physical and psychological entity we call our self using a combination of case studies and cutting edge research in psychology biology neuroscience virtual reality and many other fields levine challenges cherished beliefs about the unity and stability of the self but also suggests that we are more capable of change than we know transformation levine shows is the human condition at virtually every level physically our cells are unrecognizable from one moment to the next cognitively our self perceptions are equally changeable a single glitch can make us lose track of a body part or our entire body or to confuse our very self with that of another person psychologically we switch back and forth like quicksilver between incongruent sometimes adversarial sub selves socially we appear to be little more than an ever changing troupe of actors and culturally the boundaries of the self vary wildly around the world from the confines of one s body to an entire village the self in short is a fiction vague arbitrary and utterly intangible but it is also interminably fluid and this unleashes a world of potential engaging informative and ultimately liberating stranger in the mirror will change forever how you think about your self and what you might become the surprising true story of mexico s hunt arrest and conviction of its first female serial killer for three years amid widespread public outrage police in mexico city struggled to uncover the identity of the killer responsible for the ghastly deaths of forty elderly women many of whom had been strangled in their homes with a stethoscope by someone posing as a government nurse when juana barraza samperio a female professional wrestler known as la dama del silencio the lady of silence was arrested and eventually sentenced to 759 years in prison for her crimes as the mataviejitas the little old lady killer her case disrupted traditional narratives about gender criminality and victimhood in the popular and criminological imagination marshaling ten years of research and one of the only interviews that juana barraza samperio has given while in prison susana vargas cervantes deconstructs this uniquely provocative story she focuses in particular on the complex gendered aspects of the case asking who is a killer barraza with her manly features and strength her career as a masked wrestler in lucha libre and her violent crimes is presented here as a study in gender deviance a disruption of what scholars call mexicanidad or the masculine notion of what it means to be mexican cervantes also challenges our conception of victimhood specifically who counts as a victim the little old lady killer presents a fascinating analysis of what serial killing often considered killing for the pleasure of killing represents to us in a book written by women for women street smart safety for women offers tips on defensive living that will increase readers reliance on the one thing that can protect them most their safety intuition violence against women is a global health issue the threats women face today are unparalleled and more dangerous than ever before and for the first time in history the toxic cocktail of technology and social media has weaponized misogyny and virtualized violence against women there s an even more serious challenge that faces women today social conditioning the way our systems of family life education employment entertainment and pop culture spirituality and religion influence us leaves many of us ill equipped to deal not only with this escalating surge of attacks but also the unrelenting prevalence of sexual assault domestic violence and scams women have been culturally trained to discount one of their greatest protections safety intuition as women it is so ingrained in us to attend to everyone else including strangers on the street before we listen to ourselves that we have lost touch with our innate ability to often detect dangerous situations as the result we are left generally defenseless to recognize predators who manipulate our natural compassion to our own detriment this inability to listen to ourselves and be persuasion proof directly affects our personal safety and data shows that attacks on women continue to escalate daily across the world inside and outside of the home though everyone is talking about how women continue to be less safe few offer solutions women are terrified and they are looking for answers in street smart safety for women retired deputy sheriff joy farrow and technologist laura frombach herself a survivor of a violent household draw on their experiences both personal and professional to provide those answers dedicated to educating women in personal safety and showing them a defensive living strategy and trusting in themselves can reduce their probability of becoming a victim of a crime chapter 1 design for defensive living chapter 2 technology
