under the apple tree is a compilation of memories that spans the lifetime of the author born in the late 50s this montana baby boomer experienced a simple life that entwined hard work and moral values a time when there was an engrained sense of responsibility that bound folks together centered on family recreation never strayed far from home or the rocky mountains honesty and integrity were qualities that were the norm in her small rural community folks said what they meant and meant what they said a person was only as good as his or her word consumerism was not practiced televisions were black and white and doctors still did house calls recycling and repurposing werent new concepts they were commonplace manufactured goods were made to last and technology was dawdling in 1969 as a result of a family dispute her family pulled up roots and moved to the city the transition from rural living to city dwelling was dissonant and the jump into the 21st century and adulthood wasnt perhaps the smoothest but this author rose to the challenge still maintaining those homegrown principles and simple views in spite of the ebb

and flow of everyday life trees are unmistakably crucial to the physical success and well being of our planet these giants of the plant kingdom allow and invite people to pass under their branches to share their essence and energy and wisdom in a completely selfless way in my story an apple tree drops its apples beneath its branches and they are taken by the people who pass under to taste the sweet the tree is not ready to surrender its self worth to children snatching up her golden delicious apples without learning something about the human tree of children the tree begins to question the general consequences between the adults and the children the tree through discovery learns her true value the tree represents nature and her apples are her precious gifts the allegorical work shows that humankind is composed of many qualities like the many apples on the tree some apples are crisp some are sweeter than others and some are in conical shape the children who pass under the trees branches possess different traits passed on by their parents among the different traits we should achieve in our daily lives include joy truthfulness appreciation of internal and external beauty peace harmony etc the tree discovers its self worth when he understands the apple doesn't fall far from the tree in nature and humankind basically kids are like their parents a chip off the old block nature apple tree and humankind become one in time and space excerpt from under the apple trees i am quite certain that the majority of my readers would have me always stick to natural history themes i sympathize with them i am myself never so well pleased as when i can bring them a fresh bit of natural history or give them a day with me in the fields and woods or along the murmuring streams birds and squirrels come home to us all in a way that speculative ideas do not while writing my more philosophical dissertations my mind often turns longingly toward the simple outdoor subjects which have engaged me so many years and doubtless the mind of my reader does also when he is perusing them but one cannot always choose at such times natural history is a matter of observation it is a harvest which you gather when and where you find it growing birds and squirrels and flowers are not always in season but philosophy we have always with us it is a crop which we can grow and reap at all times and in all places and it has its own value and brings its own satisfaction we are all philosophers we all delight in finding the reason of things and in tracing the relation of things and to know for instance what part chance plays in our lives and what part is played by rigid law is a worthy and engaging problem about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works as mary's presence to the church attracts increasing interest among christians we need to dig more deeply in the biblical texts to learn something of the full dimensions of her personality and life prophetic texts particularly in the song of songs are rich sources of information about mary's early years about the development of her sense of her own calling and about the expansion of her role into her motherhood and queenship of the struggling church after the years she spent on earth this work explores these texts with invaluable assistance from the book left by fr gobbi to the priests our ladies beloved sons in which she communicates her whole mind on the current state of the church on earth on where things are headed for the church on the depths through which we are still traveling as part of the tribulation and ultimately after much upheaval the triumph of her immaculate heart in the acceptance by the nations of the kingship of jesus mary s words and works are not only totally consonant with scripture they are indispensable to understanding it
