there are in the middle east today two challenging ideas old and new the old ideas will vanish because they are weak and exhausted there is in the middle east an awakening that defies slumber this awakening will conquer because the sun is its leader and the dawn is its army in the fields of the middle east which have been a large burial ground stand the youth of spring calling the occupants of the sepulchers to rise and march toward the new frontiers when the spring sings its hymns the dead of the winter rise shed their shrouds and march forward there is on the horizon of the middle east a new awakening it is growing and expanding it is reaching and engulfing all sensitive intelligent souls it is penetrating and gaining all the sympathy of noble hearts the middle east today has two masters one is deciding ordering being obeyed but he is at the point of death but the other one is silent in his conformity to law and order calmly awaiting justice he is a powerful giant who knows his own strength confident in his existence and a believer in his destiny there are today in the middle east two men one of the past and one of the future which one are you come close let me look at you and let me be assured by your appearance and your conduct if you are one of those coming into the light or going into the darkness since world war ii protestant sermons have been an influential tool for defining american citizenship in the wake of national crises in the aftermath of national tragedies americans often turn to churches for solace because even secular citizens attend these services they are also significant opportunities for the protestant religious majority to define and redefine national identity and in the process to invest the nation state with divinity the sermons delivered in the wake of crises become integral to historical and communal memory it matters greatly who is mourned and who is overlooked melissa m matthes conceives of these sermons as theo political texts in when sorrow comes she explores the continuities and discontinuities they reveal in the balance of state power and divine authority following the bombing of pearl harbor the assassinations of jfk and mlk the rodney king verdict the oklahoma city bombing the september 11 attacks the newtown shootings and the black lives matter movement she argues that protestant preachers use these moments to address questions about christianity and citizenship and about the responsibilities of the church and the state to respond to a national crisis she also shows how post crisis sermons have codified whiteness in ritual narratives of american history excluding others from the collective account these civic liturgies therefore illustrate the evolution of modern american politics and society despite perceptions of the decline of religious authority in the twentieth century the pulpit retains power after national tragedies sermons preached in such intense times of mourning and reckoning serve as a form of civic education with consequences for how americans understand who belongs to the nation and how to imagine its future
