Core and Contingent Work in the European Union 2017-02-23 labour and social security law studies have addressed the topic of the decline of the standard employment relationship mainly from the point of view of the growing number of atypical relationships only a limited number of studies have examined the issue from the perspective of the differentiation between core and contingent work such an examination is necessary as the increase in contingent work leads to complicated legal questions which vary between european states depending on the type of contingent arrangements that have become most prevalent this book analyses using a comparative approach these different types of contingency from a national and eu perspective touching on the work relationship from a labour as well as a social security point of view the aim of the book is to identify and analyse those questions adopting an innovative approach and to put forward proposals for safeguarding social cohesion within undertakings and european society

Self-Determination and Secession in International Law 2014-06-05 peoples and minorities in many parts of the world assert a right to self determination autonomy and even secession from a state which naturally conflicts with that state s sovereignty and territorial integrity the right of a people to self determination and secession has existed as a concept within international law since the american declaration of independence in 1776 but the exact definition of these concepts and the conditions required for their application remain unclear the advisory opinion of the international court of justice concerning the declaration of independency of kosovo 2010 which held that the kosovo declaration of independence was not in violation of international law has only led to further questions this book takes four conflicts in the post soviet commonwealth of independent states cis as a starting point for examining the current state of the law of self determination and secession four entities transnistria moldova south ossetia abkhazia both georgia and nagorno karabakh azerbaijan claim to be entitled not only to self determination but also to secession from their mother state for this entitlement they rely on historic affiliations and on charges of discrimination and massive human rights violations committed by their mother state this book sets out its analysis of these critical issue in three parts providing a detailed understanding of the principles of international law on which they rely the first part sets out the contours and meaning of self determination and secession including an overall assessment of secession within the commonwealth of independent states the second section provides case studies investigating the events in transnistria south ossetia abkhazia and nagorno karabach in greater detail the third and final section extends the scope of the examination providing a comparative analysis of similar conflicts involving questions of self determination and secession in kosovo western sahara and eritrea

Jspr Vol 36-N3 2016-08-24 the journal of school public relations is a quarterly publication providing research analysis case studies and descriptions of best practices in six critical areas of school administration public relations school and community relations community education communication conflict management resolution and human resources management practitioners policymakers consultants and professors rely on the journal for cutting edge ideas and current knowledge articles are a blend of research and practice addressing contemporary issues ranging from passing bond referenda to building support for school programs to integrating modern information

JSL Vol 26-N3 2016-06-27 jsl invites the submission of manuscripts that contribute to the exchange of ideas and scholarship about schools and leadership all theoretical and methodological approaches are welcome we do not advocate or practice a bias toward any mode of inquiry e g qualitative vs quantitative empirical vs conceptual discipline based vs interdisciplinary and instead operate from the assumption that all careful and methodologically sound research has the potential to contribute to our understanding of school leadership we strongly encourage authors to consider both the local and global implications of their work the journal s goal is to clearly communicate with a diverse audience including both school based and university based educators the journal embraces a board conception of school leadership and welcomes manuscripts that reflect the diversity of ways in which this term is understood the journal is interested not only in manuscripts that focus on administrative leadership in schools and school districts but also in manuscripts that inquire about teacher student parent and community leadership

Reimagining Climate Change 2016-02-05 responding to climate change has become an industry governments corporations activist groups and others now devote billions of dollars to mitigation and adaptation and their efforts represent one of the most significant policy measures ever dedicated to a global challenge despite its laudatory intent the response industry or climate inc is failing reimagining climate change questions established categories routines and practices that presently constitute accepted solutions to tackling climate change and offers alternative routes forward it does so by unleashing the political imagination the chapters grasp the larger arc of collective experience interpret its meaning for the choices we face and creatively visualize alternative trajectories that can help us cognitively and emotionally enter into alternative climate futures they probe the meaning and effectiveness of climate protection from below forms of community and practice that are emerging in various locales around the world and that hold promise for greater collective resonance they also question climate protection from above in the form of industrial and modernist orientations and examine large scale agribusinesses as well as criticize the concept of resilience as it is presently being promoted as a response to climate change this book will be of great interest to students and scholars of climate change global environmental politics and environmental studies in general as well as climate change activists
