evocative a paean to the life cities and food of the mediterranean his essays reveal a man of deep feeling and humanity the guardian a short sublime book on the three things dearest to jean claude izzo s heart his native marseilles the sea in all its splendor and mediterranean noir the literary genre his books helped to found this collection of writings shows izzo author of the acclaimed marseilles trilogy at his most contemplative and insightful his native city with its food its flavors its passionate inhabitants and its long long history of commerce and conviviality constitute the lifeblood that runs through all of izzo s work reminiscent of henry miller s the colossus of maroussi and the lyrical essays of antoine de saint exupéry and albert camus as uplifting and touching as daniel klein s travels with epicurus this slender volume will appeal equally to gourmets who delight in the strong flavors of mediterranean cuisine to those travelling on the riviera or arm chair travelers who wish they could and naturally to aficionados of noir fiction praise for jean claude izzo mr izzo was a marvelous food writer his books are filled with winning descriptions of provencal meals run through with the flavors of north africa italy greece the new york times just as raymond chandler and james ellroy made los angeles their very own so mr izzo has made marseilles so much more than just another geographical setting the economist in izzo s books marseilles is a ville selon nos coeur a city in tune with our heart a cosmopolitan maritime city greedy sensual and warm slow food investigating identities questions of identity in contemporary international crime fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre this collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today they reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny while each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways this volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity it will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature it will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction dans un monde où les forces de la mondialisation exercent une influence croissante la notion de lieu représente une aporie fructueuse un lieu propice à analyse et de questionnement pour mieux comprendre la littérature et la pensée de notre époque l'objectif de ce volume est l'analyse dynamique du lieu au sens propre et figuré en tant que réseau d'interrelations qui met en cause la constitution et la perception récentes de l'identité dans les contextes interculturels francophones mondiaux nous abordons donc la francophonie dans sa diversité sa spécificité et sa généralité problématique les lieux en question peuvent être à la fois synonymes d'appartenance et ou d'altérité indicatifs de l'attachement à un locus amoenus et simultanément de la nécessité d'arpenter le monde pour mieux le comprendre la diversité des optiques des stratégies de lecture et des conclusions des auteurs publiés contribue à établir des dialogues inattendus
