Geography 1995

an innovative introduction to human geography exploring different ways of studying the relationships between people and place and putting people at the centre of human geography the book covers behavioural humanistic and cultural traditions showing how these can lead to a nuanced understanding of how we relate to our surroundings on a day to day basis the authors also explore how human geography is currently influenced by postmodern ideas stressing difference and diversity while taking the importance of these different approaches seriously as ways of thinking about the role of place in peoples everyday lives the book also tries to encapsulate what has been so vibrant and exciting about human geography over the last couple of decades by using examples to which students can relate such as how they imagine and represent their home the way they avoid certain spaces how they move through retail spaces where they choose to go to university how they use the internet how they represent other nations and so on the authors show how geography shapes everyday life in a manner that is seemingly mundane yet profoundly important
