claudia daneu philosopher and pianist aims at guiding the readers to fields that are accessible only by a profound view through several and diverse ways many questions of transcendent essence are treated here under literary forms the ways traced out may well be divided into four directions first the obstacles that cause personal affliction but can be overcome second the difficulties both individual and social of universal order which offer toilsome resistance though are not insoluble third all the inexorable and irreversible concerning the existence and fourth the attitudes denoting a great spiritual growth which undertaking grief evil and the irreversible go far beyond raise a living happiness and are attached only to love goodness and truth it is up to the reader to draw conclusions to make renewed reflections and to have their own modes of looking upon these questions in what promises to become an omnivore's dilemma for dog lovers, breed devotees and adoption advocates alike. The Dog Merchants is the first book to explain the complex and often surprisingly similar business practices that extend from the American Kennel Club to local shelters, from Westminster champions to dog auctions. Without judging dog lovers of any stripe, the Dog Merchants makes it clear that money spent among these dog merchants has real world effects on people and canines. Kavin reveals how dog merchants create markets for dogs, often in defiance of the usual rules of supply and demand. She takes an investigative approach and meets breeders and rescuers at all levels, shedding much needed light on an industry that most people don't even realize is an industry. Kavin's goal is to advance the conversation about how all dogs are treated, from puppy mills to high kill shelters. She shows that a great deal can be improved by understanding the business practices behind selling dogs of all kinds, instead of pitting rescue and purebred people against each other. The Dog Merchants shows how all dog lovers can come together with one voice as consumers on behalf of all our beloved companions.
