penulis the weapon wizards authors of autobiographies are always engaged in creating a self to present to their readers this process of self creation raises a number of intriguing questions why and how does anyone choose to present herself or himself in an autobiography do women and men represent themselves in different ways and if so why how do differences in culture affect the writing of autobiography in various parts of the world this book tackles these questions through a close examination of arab women s autobiographical writings nawar al hassan golley applies a variety of western critical theories including marxism colonial discourse feminism and narrative theory to the autobiographies of huda shaarawi fadwa tuqan nawal el saadawi and others to demonstrate what these critical methodologies can reveal about arab women s writing at the same time she also interrogates these theories against the chosen texts to see how adequate or appropriate these models are for analyzing texts from other cultures this two fold investigation sheds important new light on how the writers or editors of arab women s autobiographies have written documented presented and organized their texts as a youth qasim leaves his tribal village in the remote himalayas for the plains caught up in the strife surrounding the creation of pakistan he takes an orphaned girl for his daughter and the first book to explore the modern history of islam in south asia the first modern state to be founded in the name of islam pakistan was the largest muslim country in the world at the time of its establishment in 1947 today it is the second most populous after indonesia islam in pakistan is the first comprehensive book to explore islam s evolution in this region over the past century and a half from the british colonial era to the present day muhammad qasim zaman presents a rich historical account of this major muslim nation insights into the rise and gradual decline of islamic modernist thought in the south asian region and an understanding of how islam has fared in the contemporary world much attention has been given to pakistan s role in sustaining the afghan struggle against the soviet occupation in the 1980s in the growth of the taliban in the 1990s and in the war on terror after 9 11 but as zaman shows the nation s significance in matters relating to islam has much deeper roots since the late nineteenth century south asia has witnessed important initiatives toward rethinking core islamic texts and traditions in the interest of their compatibility with the imperatives of modern life traditionalist scholars and their institutions too have had a prominent presence in the region as have islamism and sufism pakistan did not merely inherit these and other aspects of islam rather it has been and remains a site of intense contestation over islam s public place meaning and interpretation examining how facets of islam have been pivotal in pakistani history islam in pakistan offers sweeping perspectives on what constitutes an islamic state the attacks and blockade on yemen by the saudi led multinational coalition have killed thousands and triggered different groups involved in the protests salih supporters muslim brothers salafis huthis secessionists women youth artists and intellectuals in terms of their competing visions for the country s future as well as their internal struggles this book traces the impact of the 2011 upheavals on these groups ideas for a new yemen and on their strategies for self empowerment in so doing yemen and
