the hound of the baskervilles was written in 1901 eight years after sir arthur conan doyle had already killed off sherlock holmes in his story the final problem however the novel was not a sequel the events of the hound of the baskervilles take place before those of the final problem when doyle killed sherlock holmes there was much public outrage and grief more than twenty thousand people quit their subscription to the strand the magazine which had popularized the stories after of the hound of the baskervilles proved such a great success though doyle decided to bring the character back to life in 1903 with the story the adventure of the empty house luckily the final problem contained enough gaps that doyle could plausibly claim that sherlock holmes had faked his own death the novel was published in serial form from 1901 to 1902 in the strand it is the third out of four novels which doyle would write about holmes it continues to enjoy much success today and is considered by some sherlock holmes scholars to be doyle s best work it has inspired over twenty film and television reinterpretations made in places as diverse as germany australia the ussr canada the united states and of course the united kingdom the most recent such reinvention of this story can be seen in the bbc series sherlock although this retelling very much differs from the original novel
