german critics in allusion to a portion of grecian literature the hebrew anthology that is a collection of the lyric moral historical and elegiac poetry of the hebrews regarded in this light alone it presents a most interesting subject of literary taste and curiosity many of these psalms must have been composed some hundreds of years before the period which is commonly assigned to the origin of the iliad of homer but it is not with them as with many of the productions of the classic muse of which the antiquity constitutes their greatest claim upon the attention of the scholar and of which the subjects possess little or no interest for the world in its manhood it was the privilege of the hebrew bards to be employed upon subjects possessing an interest as enduring as the attributes of god and the nature of dependent man their poetry has the deep foundation of eternal truth it comes for the most part in language the most glowing from the very depths of the soul rich in sentiments adapted to the soul s most urgent wants hence its living spirit its immortal freshness hence its power of reaching the hearts of all men in all countries and in all ages where in the whole compass of literature can one find more of the thoughts that breathe and words that burn than in the hebrew anthology then too what variety is there in the subjects of these ancient compositions how diverse the states of heart and fortune that occasioned them about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a
