Jay Lake's process of writing is five years of personal blog posts from 2005 to 2010 marking Jay Lake's rise in the world of genre publishing from a random newbie to a reasonably well known writer. This is an accidental book Jay didn't set out to write a book about the process of writing what he did was write a blog about a lot of things one of them was writing in all its manifold forms and configurations Jay touches on everything from practical craft issues to his publishing experiences to reviews workshops and all the rest of the impedimenta of the author's world. This is his experience opinions and thought processes on how he became the writer he is. Keep a notebook handy you're going to learn and more importantly some of Jay is going to rub off on you and you're going to write like the wind. Ken Scholes author of the Psalms of Isaak series.
