this book is about the implications of novels for young readers that tell their stories by alternating between different narrative lines focused on different characters it asks if you make sense of fiction by identifying with one main character how do you handle two or more of them do novels with alternating narratives diverge from longstanding conventions and represent a significant change in literature for young readers if not how do these novels manage to operate within the parameters of those conventions this book considers answers to these questions by means of a series of close readings that explore the structural educational and ideological implications of a variety of american british canadian and australian novels for children and for young adults
