Politics Economy and Law in Developing Asia: A Reflection on Law and Development 2022-10-15

1960s and 1970s, the legal system in developing Asia has been a subject of intense scholarly debate. This book explores the role of law in the economic development of these countries, questioning whether the legal system is a barrier to growth or a catalyst for it. It examines the impact of colonial legacies and the challenges of building a modern legal system in a context of rapid social and economic change.

The European External Action Service 2015-08-18

This book questions whether the institutions and practices of the emerging EU diplomatic system conform to established standards of the state-centric diplomatic order or whether practice is paving the way for innovative even revolutionary forms of diplomatic organisation.

4D 2021-11-11

The 4D model is a framework for understanding the relationship between the four dimensions of development: economic, social, environmental, and institutional. It argues that these dimensions are interdependent and must be addressed in an integrated manner to achieve sustainable development. The book provides a detailed analysis of the challenges and opportunities in each dimension and offers practical recommendations for policy-makers.

Routledge Handbook of National and Regional Ocean Policies 2015-05-15

This comprehensive handbook prepared by leading ocean policy academics and practitioners from around the world presents in depth analyses of the experiences of fifteen developed and developing nations and four key regions of the world that have taken concrete steps toward cross cutting and integrated national and regional ocean policy. All chapters follow a common framework for policy analysis while most coastal nations of the world already have a variety of sectoral policies in place to manage different uses of the ocean such as shipping, fishing, oil and gas development. In the last two decades the coastal nations covered in the book have undertaken concerted efforts to articulate and implement an integrated ecosystem based vision for the governance of ocean areas under their jurisdiction. This includes goals and procedures to harmonize existing uses and laws to foster sustainable development of ocean areas to protect biodiversity and vulnerable resources and ecosystems and to coordinate the actions of the many government agencies that are typically involved in oceans affairs. The book highlights the serious conflicts of use in most national ocean zones and the varying attempts by nations to follow the prescriptions emanating from the 1982 UN Law of the Sea Convention and the outcomes of the 1992, 2002 and 2012 Sustainable Development Summits. The interrelationship among uses and processes in the coast and ocean requires that ocean governance be integrated, precautionary and anticipatory. Overall the book provides a definitive state of the art review and analysis of national and regional ocean policies around the world.

this book analyses regional interventions in african conflict spaces by engaging with political discourse theory interventions are a performance of agency but what happens if interventions are performed by forces that scholars have hardly ever considered as relevant agents in this regard based on a study of regional politics towards the crises in burundi and zimbabwe the book analyses how these interventions shaped and changed the emerging regional interveners the book engages political discourse theory proposing an understanding of intervention as a field in which multiple and heterogeneous interpretations of the violence the crisis and the future post conflict order meet it is not hard to imagine that this encounter is not harmonious per se but full of frictions by making use of political discourse theory as a grammar for studying the complexity of an intervention the focus is directed to the emerging subjectivities of regional interveners this enables a view of regional interventions that neither reduces their subjectivity to universalist categories associated with liberal peace nor overenthusiastically embraces them as the solution to all problems this book will be of interest to students of international intervention discourse theory african politics war and conflict studies security studies and ir
