charles r jackson survived the war and penned his memoir though it went unpublished and forgotten for decades that is until bruce doc norton himself a decorated u s marine veteran and an acclaimed military historian brought the memoir to light in a rare look into the heart of combat sergeant major jackson describes the fierce and ultimately losing battle for corregidor the surrender of thousands of marines and the death marches that followed and all this was simply a prelude to the fight for survival that would take place in the pow camps jacksons memoir gives voice to the thousands of men who fought and died during wwii in the pacific his character and spirit evoke the very definition of the marine corps motto semper fidelis always faithful the psychology of entertainment media provides a cutting edge look at how entertainment media affects its viewers both in intended and unintended ways and the psychological processes that underlie these effects the collection represents an international multidisciplinary investigation of an age old process persuasion in a relatively new guise which includes product placements brand films television programs and sponsorships the collection covers three broad areas the potential effects of embedding promotions within entertainment media content the persuasive power of the entertainment media content itself and individual differences in the interplay between media usage and media effects contributions focus on a variety of topics including product placement subliminal perception narrative impact cultivation effects on consumers and individual differences in media use virtually all the chapters speak to the issue of how entertainment media are processed with the conclusion that media consumers do tend to process entertainment and promotional information differently providing a broad perspective on how entertainment media may have an effect that goes largely unnoticed or unattended by consumers this volume makes a substantial contribution toward creating a more knowledgeable field as well as a more knowledgeable consumer with its origins in the 21st annual advertising and consumer psychology conference the volume represents scholarship from prominent and emerging scholars in psychology marketing and communications it is appropriate for advanced students and scholars in marketing advertising and legends on the pain of losing a pet and overcoming grief an animal s love is deep uncomplicated unconditional and forgiving affection without ambivalence is how sigmund freud described the connection no matter how awful the day or how awful i am behaving at any given moment george doesn t care writes journalist john dickerson he finds me smoldering in my chair and dashes to my lap our lives are intricately intertwined with our pets and together over time we establish rituals that are as steady as a metronome it s no wonder the grief is crushing when they depart even those who ve had time to prepare describe feeling stunned devastated and cracked in two we were a bit broken up over the death of our black persian cat crime novelist raymond chandler confessed when i say a bit broken up i am being conventional for us it was a tragedy nobel prize winning author v s naipaul described the experience as calamitous and writer may sarton called it a volcanic eruption of woe poet emily dickinson was so bereft she asked for help carlo died she announced in a letter to her friend thomas wentworth higinson in 1866 would you instruct me now the book of pet love and loss is a collection of quotations poignant thoughts and memories discovered in letters journals diaries memoirs and other original sources from beloved cultural figures who understood this singular experience so deeply they felt compelled to write about it this book dignifies the profound connection we share with our animal companions but it also provides solace as mourners document their heartache over the loss of their cats dogs rabbits birds and other animals even in the case of pablo neruda a mongoose their comforting and wise words are what every animal lover needs on this journey of heartbreak
