chiefly a record of some of the descendants of stephen bumgarner he was born 8 may 1811 in wilkes county north carolina he married rebecca nichols 6 jan 1831 in wilkes county north carolina she was born 17 apr 1811 in wilkes county north carolina to william nichols and elizabeth holdaway she died 30 oct 1887 in wilkes county north carolina he died 29 july 1901 in wilkes county north carolina they were the parents of ten children descendants lived in north carolina west virginia kentucky tennessee florida and elsewhere delaware stood outside the primary streams of new world emancipation despite slavery s virtual demise in that state during the antebellum years and delaware s staunch unionism during the civil war itself the state failed to ratify the thirteenth amendment which prohibits slavery until 1901 patience essah takes the reader of a house divided through the introduction evolution demise and final abolition of slavery in delaware in unraveling the enigma of how and why tiny delaware abstained from the abolition mandated in northern states after the american revolution resisted the movement toward abolition in border states during the civil war and stubbornly opposed ratification of the thirteenth amendment she offers fresh insight into the history of slavery race and racialism in america the citizens of delaware voluntarily freed over 90 percent of their slaves yet they declined lincoln s 1862 offer of compensation for emancipation and the legislature persistently foiled all attempts to mandate emancipation those arguing against emancipation expressed fears that it inadvertently would alter the delicate balance of political power in the state what essah has found at the base of the delaware paradox is a political discourse stalemated by instrumental appeals to racialism in showing the persistence of slavery in delaware she raises questions about postslavery race relations her analysis is vital to an understanding of the african american experience lambert jochemse van valckenburgh married annetje jacobs in 1642 and immigrated from the netherlands to new amsterdam new york between 1642 and 1644 descendants lived throughout
