The Shadow Throne (The Ascendance Series, Book 3)

2014-02-25

Jennifer A. Nielsen takes readers on an extraordinary journey with the false prince in this final installment of the New York Times bestselling Ascendance Series. War has come to Carthya. It knocks at every door and window in the land. And when Jaron learns that King Vargan of Avenia has kidnapped Imogen in a plot to bring Carthya to its knees, Jaron knows it is up to him to embark on a daring rescue mission. But everything that can go wrong does. His friends are flung far and wide across Carthya and its neighboring lands in a last ditch effort to stave off what looks to be a devastating loss for the kingdom. Jaron undertakes what may be his last journey to save everything and everyone he loves. But even with his lightning quick wit, Jaron cannot forestall the terrible danger that descends on him and his country. Along the way, will he lose what matters most? And in the end, who will sit on Carthya's throne? Don't miss the highly anticipated fourth book in the series, The Captive Kingdom, coming October 2020.

by the end of the nineteenth century it became evident to iran's ruling qajar elite that the state's contribution to the promotion of modern education in the country was unable to meet the growing expectations set by iranian society. muzaffar al-din shah sought to remedy this situation by permitting the entry of the private sector into the field of modern education and in 1899 the first baha'i school was established in tehran. by the 1930s there were dozens of baha'i schools. their high standards of education drew many non-baha'i students from all sections of society. here, soli shahvar assesses these forgotten schools and investigates why they proved so popular not only with baha'is but zoroastrians, jews and especially muslims. shahvar explains why they were closed by the reformist reza shah in the late 1930s and the subsequent fragility of the baha'is' position in iran.
