award winning paper why i read Canadian speculative fiction along with 15 other contributions on science fiction and fantasy literature television and music by Canadian creators authors discussed include Charles de Lint Nalo Hopkinson Tanya Huff Esther Rochon Peter Watts and Robert Charles Wilson essays on the television show Supernatural and the Scott Pilgrim comics series are also included once upon a time fairy tales were for children but not anymore in Snow White Blood Red some of today s most acclaimed fantasy authors present stories that evoke the spirit of classic fairy tales but that are decidedly for grown ups here you will find magical tales of enchantment and delight but also stories with a dark sinister edge in which heroes and heroines are flawed and fallible fairies and fey beings pursue their own wicked schemes love lists toward lust words and actions are weapons that draw blood and not everyone lives happily ever after passionate erotic violent and brutally honest these stories simmer with emotions that their disarmingly charming fantasies can barely contain edited by award winning editors Ellen Datlow and Terri Windling and featuring the work of Neil Gaiman Charles de Lint Gahan Wilson Patricia A McKillip Steve and Melanie Tem and fifteen other leading fantasists Snow White Blood Red is a connoisseurs collection of fairy tales that have outgrown the nursery traditionally in the west children were expected to know their place but what does this comprise in a contemporary globalized world does it mean to continue to accept subordination to those larger and more powerful does it mean to espouse unthinkingly a notion of national identity or is it about gaining an awareness of the ways in which identity is derived from a sense of place where individuals are situated matters as much if not more than it ever has in children s literature the physical places and psychological spaces inhabited by children and young adults are also key elements in the developing identity formation of characters and through engagement of readers too the contributors to this collection map a broad range of historical and present day workings of this process exploring indigeneity and place tracing the intertwining of place and identity in diasporic literature analyzing the relationship of the child to the natural world and studying the role of fantastic spaces in children s construction of the self they address fresh topics and texts ranging from the indigenization of the gothic by canadian mixed blood anishinabe writer drew hayden taylor to the lesser known children s books of george mackay brown to eco feminist analysis of contemporary verse novels the essays on more canonical texts such as peter pan and the harry potter series provide new angles from which to revision them readers of this collection will gain understanding of the complex interactions of place space and identity in children s literature essays in this book will appeal to those interested in children s literature aboriginal studies environmentalism and
