Correspondence Relative to the Seizure of British American Vessels in Behrings Sea by the United States Authorities in 1886-87 [i.e. 88] 1888 excerpt from japan s real attitude toward america a reply to mr george bronson reas japan s place in the sun the menace to america however the loud advertisement that the arguments advanced are based on authoritative japanese sources and the apparent richness of these quotations coupled with the fervor of a patriot with which the advocacy is performed are apt to give a false impression to those not conversant with the japanese language and affairs or too busy to scrutinize the nature of mr reas deductions and thus lend to his pamphlet a weight which is far from its due unless disproved i fear no small harm might be done by mr reas writings to the friendly relations between japan and america whose continuance is to the true interest of the two countries i feel therefore it is my bounden duty to both countries to which i owe so much to make an intelligent exposition of japan s position and her relation with america it is with this aim that i have compiled the following articles that have mainly appeared already in the american press with a platform address of my own and present them in this convenient form to the public about the publisher forgotten books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books find more at forgottenbooks.com this book is a reproduction of an important historical work forgotten books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy in rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition we do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

A Critical Dictionary of English Literature and British and American Authors, Living and Deceased, from the Earliest Accounts to the Latter Half of the Nineteenth Century 1871 the questions seem impertinent they are part of a long paper of interrogations i must answer satisfactorily if i am to be regarded as a desirable alien to enter the united states of america i want very much to pass that great statue of liberty illuminating the world from a central position in new york harbor in order to see things in its light to talk to certain people to appreciate certain atmospheres and so i resist the provocation to answer impertinently i do not even volunteer that i do not smoke and am a total abstainer on which points it would seem the states as a whole still keep an open mind i am full of curiosity about america i am possessed by a problem i feel i cannot adequately discuss even with myself except over there and i must go even at the price of coming to a decision upon the theoretically open questions these two inquiries raise
