Questions and Answers in Embedded Contexts 2002

linguists and others have realised for some time that predicates of the know and wonder classes behave differently in semantic terms with respect to their interrogative complements but have not so far fully understood how or why this book seeks to explore and to provide solutions to this and to related problems in explaining the meaning and grammar of embedded interrogatives and the predicates that take interrogative complements the investigation extends to the semantics of adverbs of quantification theories of plurals and lexical selection the work is addressed to those working in semantics and to syntacticians concerned with the constraints that syntactic structure imposes on semantic interpretation it is at the heart of current research in the syntax semantics interface although some knowledge of formal semantics is assumed the book has been written to be accessible to researchers in computer science philosophy and cognitive science the asia information retrieval societies conference airs 2010 was the sixth conference in the airs series aiming to bring together international researchers and developers to exchange new ideas and the latest results in information trieval the scope of the conference encompassed the theory and practice of all aspects of information retrieval in text audio image video and multimedia data. The 2010 conference continued the conference series that grew from the information retrieval with Asian languages workshop series started in 1996. It has become a mature venue for information retrieval work, receiving support from the ACM Special Interest Group on Information Retrieval, SIGIR, the Association for Computational Linguistics and Chinese Language Processing, ACLCLP, Rocling, and the Information Processing Society of Japan Special Interest Group on Information Fundamentals and Access Technologies, IPSJSIG. In 2010, this year saw a sharp rise in the number of submissions over the previous year. A total of 120 papers were submitted, representing work by academics and practitioners not only from Asia but also from Australia, Europe, North America, etc. The high quality of the work made it difficult for the dedicated program committee to decide which papers to feature at the conference. Through a double-blind reviewing process, 26 submissions were accepted as full oral papers, and 31 were accepted as short posters. The success of this conference was only possible with the support of all of the authors who submitted papers for review, the program committee members who constructively assessed the submissions, and the registered conference delegates. We thank them for their support of this conference and for their long-term support of this Asian-centric venue for IR research and development.
