Pinocchio. Leadership without Lies

2018-09-24

what should pinocchio king of liars teach us about leadership what does lying mean what leader would candidly admit to telling a lot of lies of their own free will leadership is made of and is told through stories about great universal values which however we prove to lack in our communal everyday life there are way too many omissions in these stories true leadership is a whole different thing carrellas is a journey through the truth in the lies set to music to wild rock and songs that sound like poetry and poetry that sounds like songs a breathtaking narration there is no winking at the readers no attempt to earn their favor it is hard like only rock can be like only true stories are every passage a song a memory a tiny dot a tale of business history songs literary works comics documentaries videos are used to portray a most original variation of pinocchio the hero looking for freedom through disobedience lies and the confrontation with own his vulnerability which might just be the path of the leader saying only what other people want you to say ultimately then pinocchio the puppet is the one who tells less lies of all

Looking Up

look at the birds through the painful days of the pandemic stuck in her home courtney ellis found herself looking down in despair soon after her beloved grandfather died unexpectedly it was around this same time that ellis took up watching birds took up might not be exactly right as she puts it the switch flipped and she s been borderline obsessed with birds ever since looking up is a meditation on birding as a practice of hope weaving together stories from her own life including the death of her grandfather with reflections on birds of many kinds ellis invites us to open our eyes to the goodness of god both in the natural world and in our own lives by looking up to the birds ellis found the beauty and wonder of these creatures calling her out of her darkness into the light and hope of god s promises

this report is the result of a cooperative effort by the rocky mountain research station and the usda forest service region 3 with participation by the arizona game and fish department and the bureau of land management it assesses the state of knowledge related to the conservation status of the cactus ferruginous pygmy owl in arizona the population decline of this owl has been attributed to the loss of riparian areas before and after the turn of the 20th century currently the cactus ferruginous pygmy owl is chiefly found in southern arizona in xeroriparian vegetation and wellstructured upland desertscrub the primary threat to the remaining pygmy owl population appears to be continued habitat loss due to residential development important information gaps exist and prevent a full understanding of the current population status of the owl and its conservation needs
