The Hungry Ghosts 2013-04-02 a novel of raw human longing his stripped down prose focuses on the deeply personal with precision and insight selvadural s work reminds me that the contemporary novel doesn t necessarily have to resort to thrills or high jinks in order to find its usefulness here it unforgettably explores the interplay between individual intention and the tragedy of a nation s history the globe and mail in sri lankan myth a person who dies may be reborn a hungry ghost a ghost with a large stomach that can never be filled through its tiny mouth if he has desired too much during his life it is the duty of the living to free the dead who are doomed to this fate by transferring karma from their own good deeds in shyam selvadural s masterful new novel shivan a troubled young man of mixed tamil and sinhalese ancestry is preparing to travel from toronto canada to the land of his childhood sri lanka to rescue his ailing grandmother and bring her back to die but on the eve of his departure as shivan meditates on his turbulent past recalls his gradual discovery of his homosexuality and wrestles with his complicated relationship with the wily old woman he discovers just how much his own heart s desires are entwined with the volatile political racial and sexual mix of sri lanka s past and present in the end shivan must decide will he rescue his grandmother or join her the hungry ghosts is an unconventional exploration of the immigrant experience a tale of family ties and the long reach of the past and a heartwrenching look at how racial political and sexual differences can tear apart a country a family and a human being

Postcolonial Postmortems 2006 recent crime fiction increasingly transcends national boundaries with investigators operating across countries and continents frequently the detective is a migrant or comes from a transcultural background to solve the crime the investigator is called upon to decipher the meaning s hidden in clues and testimonies that require transcultural forms of understanding for the reader the investigation discloses new interpretive methods and processes of social investigation often challenging facile interpretations of the postcolonial world order under the rubric postcolonial postmortems this collection of essays seeks to explore the tropes issues and themes that characterise this emergent form of crime fiction but what does the postcolonial bring to the genre apart from the well known and valid discourses of resistance subversion and ethnicity and why postmortems a dissection and medical examination of a body to determine the cause of death the postmortem of the postcolonial not only alludes to the investigation of the victim's remains but also to the body of the individual text and its contexts this collection interrogates literary concepts of postcoloniality and crime from transcultural perspectives in the attempt to offer new critical impulses to the study of crime fiction and postcolonial literatures international scholars offer insights into the postcolonial postmortems of a wide range of texts by authors from africa south asia the asian and african diaspora and australia including robert g barrett unity dow wessel ebersohn romesh gunesekera kazuo ishiguro sujata massey alexander mccall smith and michael ondaatje

Projections of Paradise 2011-01-01 paradise is commonly imagined as a place of departure or arrival beginning and closure permanent inhabitation of which however much desired is illusory this makes it the dream of the traveller the explorer the migrant hence a trope recurrent in postcolonial writing which is so centrally concerned with questions of displacement and belonging projections of paradise documents this concern and demonstrates the indebtedness of writers as diverse as salman rushdie agha shahid ali cyril dabydeen bernardine evaristo amitav ghosh james goonewardene romesh gunesekera abdulrazak gurnah janette turner hospital penelope lively fatima mernissi michael ondaatje shyam selvadurai m g vassanji and rudy wiebe to strikingly similar myths of fulfilment in writing directly or indirectly about the experience of migration all project paradises as places of origin or destination as homes left or not yet found as objects of nostalgic recollection or hopeful anticipation yet in locating such places quite specifically in egypt zanzibar kashmir sri lanka the sundarbans canada the caribbean queensland morocco tuscany russia the arctic the usa and england they also subvert received fantasies of paradise as a pleasurable land rich with natural beauty projections of paradise explores what happens to these fantasies and what remains of them as postcolonial writings call them into question and expose the often hellish realities from which popular dreams of ideal elsewheres are commonly meant to provide an escape contributors vera alexander gerd bayer derek coyle geetha ganapathy doré evelyne hanquart turner ursula kluwick janne korkka marta mamet michalkiewicz sofia muñoz valdieso susanne pichler helga ramsey kurz ulla ratheiser petra tournay thedotou
