the higher education act of 1965 hea p l 89 329 authorizes numerous federal aid programs that provide support to both individuals pursuing a postsecondary education and institutions of higher education ihes title iv of the hea authorizes the federal government s major student aid programs which are the primary source of direct federal support to students pursuing postsecondary education titles ii iii and v of the hea provide institutional aid and support additionally the hea authorizes services and support for less advantaged students select title iv programs students pursuing international education title vi and students pursuing and institutions offering certain graduate and professional degrees title vii finally the most recently added title title viii authorizes several other programs that support higher education the hea was last comprehensively reauthorized in 2008 by the higher education opportunity act of 2008 heoa p l 110 315 which authorized most hea programs through fy2014 following the enactment of the heao the hea has been amended by numerous other laws most notably the safra act part of the health care and education reconciliation act of 2010 p l 111 152 which terminated the authority to make federal student loans through the federal family education loan ffel program authorization of appropriations for many hea programs expired at the end of fy2014 but has been extended through fy2015 under the general education provisions act this report provides a brief overview of the major provisions of the hea the higher education act of 1965 hea as amended authorises the federal government s major federal student aid programs title iv as well as other programs which provide institutional aid and support titles ii iii and v in addition the hea authorises services and support to less advantaged students select title iv programs and to students pursuing international education and certain graduate and professional degrees titles vi and vii the programs authorised bythe hea are administered by the u s department of education ed and made available an estimated 70 94 billion of all federal state and institutional aid awarded to post secondary students in 2005 2006 excluding tax benefits the 108th and 109th congresses each considered but did not complete the hea reauthorization process for the 110th congress the higher education amendments of 2007 s 1642 was introduced by senator kennedy on june 18 2007 and approved by the senate health education labour and pensions committee help on july 10th additionally much like what occurred during the 109th congress this year the reauthorization of the hea has become heavily intertwined with the budget reconciliation process as both the senate help committee and the house education and labour committee have reported budget reconciliation bills that would make numerous changes to programs and provisions contained in the hea this book provides a side by side comparison of the hea reauthorization proposal in the help committee passed version of s 1642 to current law the side by side is generally organised to correspond with the organisation of s 1642 the book begins with a brief overview of the titles and major programs of the hea and includes a short summary of the larger issues and proposed changes in s 1642 for each title and program this report presents testimony along with prepared letters statements and supplemental materials submitted before a house congressional hearing concerned with the reauthorization of the higher education act of 1965 in general and the integrity and quality of grant and loan assistance for students in particular the testimony and statements address two problems in the student loan assistance program 1 the imbalance between grants and loans and 2 the department of education s poor oversight and management of the student assistance program specifically the first problem concerns the fact that loans to students comprise nearly 75 while grants account for the remaining 25 of student aid a reversal of the way the loan assistance programs were expected to work the second problem comes from an office of management and budget report along with one from the education department which concluded that the department of education s management practices had contributed to high student loan default rates and fraud and abuse in the student assistance programs in addition it was concluded by the government accounting office that the department s financial statements were unreliable because the accounting system that the department is using does not produce accurate information glr like no other book available working with students with disabilities a guide for school counselors provides comprehensive
