Theresa Hak Kyung Cha, Berkeley, 1968 2013 première publication dédiée à l'oeuvre singulière de l'artiste coréenne américaine theresa hak kyung cha 1951 1982 à la croisée de la performance de l'art conceptuel de la vidéo et de la poésie dont l'un des motifs principaux concerne sa représentation de l'histoire marquée par l'expérience de l'exil et de la migration de la dislocation temporelle culturelle géographique et sociale

Dictée 2001 this autobiographical work is the story of several women deploying a variety of texts documents and imagery these women are united by suffering and the transcendence of suffering

Theresa Hak Kyung Cha in Black and White 2023-07-31 theresa hak kyung cha in black and white explores the relation between text author and reader a nexus theorized as the apparatus in cha's study of cinema by tracing two key literary intertexts in dictée henry james's the jolly corner a submerged literary resonance in apparatus cha's anthology of film theory and the writing of saint thérèse of lisieux a primary intertext at the heart of dictée in cha's film theory black and white is the flicker of the cinematic apparatus and the elements readings consider this contrasting palette in self-reflexive portraits in black and white this study reads flashes of identification often in punishing self-encounters and it dwells on the figure of the martyr to arrive at the death of theresa hak kyung cha the patron saint of artists and scholars fascinated by her art and her suffering

The Dream of the Audience 2001 performance art video ceramics mail and stamp art artist's books and works on paper are part of the range of pioneering and influential work by korean american artist theresa hak kyung cha that are showcased with scholarly essays in this exhibition catalog

The Theme of Displacement in the Art of Theresa Hak Kyung Cha and a Catalogue of the Artist's Oeuvre 1990

2003-06 in her radical exploration of cultural and personal identity the writer and artist theresa hak kyung cha sought the roots of language before it is born on the tip of the tongue her first book the highly original postmodern text dictée is now an internationally studied work of autobiography this volume spanning the period between 1976 and 1982 brings together cha's previously uncollected writings and text-based pieces with images exilée and temps morts are two related poem sequences that explore themes of language memory displacement and alienation issues that continue to resonate with artists today back in print with a new cover this stunning selection of cha's works gives readers a fuller view of a major figure in late twentieth century art copublished by berkeley art museum and pacific film archive

Exilée and Temps Morts 2022-09-06 a portrait in fragments is a response to the works by the korean american multimedia artist theresa hak kyung cha the exhibition features works by cha as well as new works in response by ruth barker sujin lee jefford horrigan and bada song

The Dream of the Audience Theresa Hak Kyung Cha (1951-1982). 2003

Dictée 1995 mastery over language that was borrowed that was not her mother tongue enabled theresa hak kyung cha to empathize with her viewer her distant audience as powerfully as any artist i know in exilée and temps morts i listen with fascination as her tongue exercises furtively and nimbly convincing me that cha would have been the exemplary artist of identity had she lived another ten years byron kim conceptual poetic visual the writings of theresa hak kyung cha are radical and subtle responses to the artistic context of their time and reveal powerful areas of exploration to readers like few other contemporary collections this book opens up new horizons in literature art history film theory and linguistics emphasizing the originality of a unique body of work that belongs both to history and to the present elvan zabunyan author of black is a color since its publication within weeks of her premature death theresa hak kyung cha's dictée has attracted academic feminist literary and cult followings but despite the passion that erupts through its surface it is in many ways an austere book it withholds something and purposefully so this unexpected new collection of cha's other previously uncollected writings inscriptions offers something gentler more intimate and though not less alienated perhaps the cha we encounter in exilée and temps morts is more playful the works collected here resonate with vivacity and the luminous presence that was and remains theresa hak kyung cha lyn hejinian author of a border comedy

In Honor of Theresa Hak Kyung Cha 1983 las voces de theresa hak kyung cha trauma silencios balbuces es una tentativa de describir la poética de la artista estadounidense de origen coreano 1951 1982 es pronunciar to live y to leave y asomarse a esa desconcertante diferencia para quienes el inglés no es su lengua materna entre vivir y separarse la distancia inaprensible que llega a través de ese oscilar de la voz da algunas pistas del balbucir que acompaña a su condición de exiliada el lenguaje roto deja aparecer entre sus fisuras algún resto de vida como una pequeña planta abriéndose paso en un muro una planta o las letras de una pintada que juegan a quebrar su propio mensaje el tiempo su alcance en cha las palabras acogen los huecos las criptas los errores los desvíos los giros lo falso lo no dicho los fantasmas y su murmullo transgeneracional penetran hasta los huesos como morfeo cuestionan las deformaciones que convocan los sueños adentrarse en su trabajo es moverse entre el espesor cambiante de los relatos que van de boca en boca en el cuerpo a cuerpo y que conforman el habla afectiva del siglo xx agitada por el trauma

Theresa Hak Kyung Cha 2004 just as american ideals of economic modernization were bound up in ideas about china the movement toward aesthetic modernization also looked toward east asia ezra pound's study and subsequent reproduction of ancient and medieval chinese poetry into the modern english language cathay is emblematic of this trajectory this thesis traces the use of image in contemporary american poetry back to its transcontinental past focusing on theresa cha's dictée as a model of avant-garde reflections on objecthood

A Portrait in Fragments 2013 this thesis analyzes groundbreaking experimental texts by asian american writers that employ genre bending formal innovations to resist the uneasy containment of social hierarchies and aesthetic categories after a brief discussion of monica youn s 2019 poem study of two figures pasiphaë sado i trace such experimentation back to the late twentieth century focusing on two other texts that explore similar strategies of literary experimentation and that present themselves as novels but as youn does with poetry resist that classification at the same time the experimental expansions of form in both theresa hak kyung cha s dictee 1982 and pamela lu s pamela a novel 1998 defy categorization and the containments of genre further the formal resistances of both texts repudiate social categorizations on the basis of ethnic racial and gender containment the hybrid forms of dictee and pamela a novel act as corollaries for resistance to the racial and gender markers constructed by society to contain asian american identities

Las voces de Theresa Hak Kyung Cha 2021 examines the diasporic and transnational aspects of asian american literature and engages works of prose and poetry as aesthetic articulations of the fluid transnational identities formed by asian american writers

Language, History and Loss in Theresa Hak Kyung Cha's Dictee 2007 whereas the text of modernity thrived on its rhythms symbols and representations of beauty and above all on its impersonality postmodernity in the late decades of the twentieth century sought relationships outside the text those between literature and history philosophy psychology society and culture the exploration of such relationships is literary to postmodernity as it is ancillary to modernity book jacket
