scho larship contributed articles on 20th century english fiction indian english literature has established its credentials all over the world still some pointed posers concerning the impact of multiculturalism and the choice of english as a medium on the warp and woof of indian english literature have to be confronted and analysed threadbare not merely in theory but also through the elucidation of some key texts from this perspective the present volume is devoted to this critical endeavour the volume comprises scholarly studies of the works of kamala das mulk raj anand raja rao arun joshi amitav ghosh rohinton mistry shobha de anita desai and arundhati roy the theoretical framework pertains to the multiculturalism and the critical implications of the choice of medium in indian english literature an indispensable source of fresh and innovative insight into indian english literature a useful supplement to the existing studies of indian literature a fresh perspective for students teachers researchers working in literary theory fiction studies stylistics and sociology of literature raja rao s kanthapura is one of the finest novels to come out of mid twentieth century india this anthology demonstrates the significance of raja rao s writing in the broader spectrum of anti colonial postcolonial and diasporic writing in the 20th century in addition to highlighting rao s significant presence in indian writing the volume presents a range of previously unpublished material which contextualises rao's work within 20th century modernist postmodernist and postcolonial trends exploring both his fictional and non-fictional works reading india in a transnational era engages with issues of subaltern agency and national belonging authenticity subjectivity internationalism multicultural politics postcolonialism and literary and cultural representation through language and translation a literary volume that discusses gender and identity on both socio-political grounds apart from dealing with rao's linguistic experimentations in a transnational era will be of interest among scholars and researchers of english postcolonial and world literature cultural theory and asian studies the papers collected in this anthology represent a wide spectrum of critical interests of scholars specialising in indian fiction in english which has of late established a powerful and pervasive presence on the world literary scene the widely divergent themes of the third generation indian novelists including especially immigrant experience feminist concerns and gender issues familial social psychological and philosophical problems characterising contemporary indian life and the major debates centred round indian fiction in english besides the innovative techniques have all been discussed in this volume from refreshingly new perspectives among the contributors to this volume are some of the most respected scholars john thieme england sandra ponzanesi netherlands shaul bassi italy basavaraj naikar india uma parameswaran canada mary conde england christopher rollason france chandra holm switzerland joel kuortti finland and alessandra contenti italy among the novelists discussed are salman rushdie shashi deshbande bharati mukherjee vikram seth amitav ghosh and arundhati roy this book considers the novels and short stories of raja rao in terms of the diasporic life of the author among the earliest of the second wave indian diaspora in the west raja rao employs this unique perspective in most of his works this is the hallmark of his writing however we also discuss the varied human and spiritual aspects of his work as reflecting his own life his experiences as an indian in a western world but raja rao's writing also counts as postcolonial and postmodern far ahead of any others here or there the book introduces some of the major areas that students and teachers of english in india should understand in order to follow a scientific approach the suggestions made in the studies and the pedagogical implications should be of much help to them the book covers many topics that find place in the syllabi of universities the author has discussed in particular some important aspects of indian english the materials in this field are often presented in a form and language highly specialised the present book however is a collection of simplistic studies and as a book of this kind is difficult to find it is useful in its own way study on the works of raja rao and the west indies indian fiction in english now enjoys a major presence across the world from its humble beginnings in the thirties it has come a long way to emerge as a serious contender to some of the most coveted literary prizes in the world in terms of popularity and market presence it has experienced phenomenal success in the recent years while it behoves well to celebrate its success and revel in its glory we should also stop to enquire into its strengths and weaknesses its achievements and failures and its present status and future prospects standing as we do on the threshold of the twenty-first century the underlying purpose of indian fiction in english therefore is to attempt a fairly comprehensive turn of the century stocktaking of indian fiction in english the anthology puts together incisive and highly rated articles on almost all the important indian novelists in english starting with the three pioneers namely mulk raj anand r k narayan and raja rao it goes on to include perceptive and analytical articles on the second generation novelists such as manohar malgonkar bhabani bhattacharya arun joshi anita desai ruth praver jhabvala kamala markandaya and nayantara sahgai and finally it attempts an assessment of the relatively recent entrants into the field like salman rushdie amitav ghosh bharati mukherjee rukun advani and boman desai among the contributors are k kumar and s krishna sarma contributed articles the book contains six interesting and useful essays on indian english literature as it contains several essays on urdu literature and studies where english and urdu have been compared and contrasted the teachers and students of urdu may also benefit from it the book also contains a chapter on the influence of english on kurmali the book may help to promote further fruitful discussion on issues connected with india indian english literature indian languages and contractive analysis intended to serve the academic needs of the students of english literature the companion is an ultimate literary reference source providing an up-to-date comprehensive and authoritative biographies of novelists poets playwrights essayists journalists and critics ranging from literary giants of the past to contemporary writers like peter burnes 1931-2004 anthony powell 1905-2000 patrick o'brian 1914-2000 iris murdoch 1919-1999 grace nicholas 1950 and douglas adams 1952-2001 over the last few decades english literary canon has become relatively more extensive and diverse in recognition of the significance of the new literatures in english special emphasis has been given on the writers of these literatures in addition the indian writers writing in english have been given a prominent place in the book thereby making it particularly useful for the students of indian english literature the companion is unique of its kind as it gives a broad outline of the story and not merely a brief account of the plot structure of a literary work so as to enable the students to have a fairly good idea of the story likewise before getting down to the writings of an author the companion provides an invaluable and authoritative biographical note believing that an author's biography facilitates proper understanding of his/her contributions on account of its clear and reliable plot summaries and descriptive entries of major works and literary journals and authentic biographical details the companion is a work of permanent value it is undoubtedly an indispensable and path-breaking handy reference guide for all those interested in literatures in
