in the struggle for a multilingual future christina davis examines the tension between ethnic conflict and multilingual education policy in the linguistic and social practices of sri lankan minority youth facing a legacy of post independence language and education policies that were among the complex causes of the sri lankan civil war 1983 2009 the government has recently sought to promote interethnic integration through trilingual language policies in sinhala tamil and english in state schools integrating ethnographic and linguistic research in and around two schools during the last phase of the war davis s research shows how despite the intention of the reforms practices on the ground reinforce language based models of ethnicity and sustain ethnic divisions and power inequalities by engaging with the actual experiences of tamil and muslim youth davis demonstrates the difficulties of using language policy to ameliorate ethnic conflict if it does not also address how that conflict is produced and reproduced in everyday talk

this book maps south asian theatre productions that have contextualised ibsen s plays to underscore the emergent challenges of postcolonial nation formation the concerns addressed in this collection include politico cultural engagements with human rights economic and environmental issues and globalisation all of which have evolved through colonial times and thereafter this book contemplates why and how these ibsen texts were repeatedly adapted for the stage and consequently reflects upon the political intent of this appropriative journey of the foreign playwright this book tracks the unmapped agency that south asian theatre has acquired through aesthetic appropriation of ibsen and thereby contributes to his global reception this collection will be of great interest to students and scholars of theatre and performance studies
