Politics Is for Power 2021-05-11 a brilliant condemnation of political hobbyism treating politics like entertainment and a call to arms for well meaning well informed citizens who consume political news but do not take political action who is to blame for our broken politics the uncomfortable answer to this question starts with ordinary citizens with good intentions we vote sometimes and occasionally sign a petition or attend a rally but we mainly engage by consuming politics as if it s a sport or a hobby we soak in daily political gossip and eat up statistics about who s up and who s down we tweet and post and share we crave outrage the hours we spend on politics are used mainly as pastime instead we should be spending the same number of hours building political organizations implementing a long term vision for our city or town and getting to know our neighbors whose votes will be needed for solving hard problems we could be accumulating power so that when there are opportunities to make a difference to lobby to advocate to mobilize we will be ready but most of us who are spending time on politics today are focused inward choosing roles and activities designed for our short term pleasure we are repelled by the slow and steady activities that characterize service to the common good in politics is for power pioneering and brilliant data analyst eitan hersh shows us a way toward more effective political participation aided by political theory history cutting edge social science as well as remarkable stories of ordinary citizens who got off their couches and took political power seriously this book shows us how to channel our energy away from political hobbyism and toward empowering our values

If there are no limits... 2015 social and cultural anthropology and archaeology are rich subjects with deep connections in the social and physical sciences over the past 150 years the subject matter and different theoretical perspectives have expanded so greatly that no single individual can command all of it consequently both advanced students and professionals may be confronted with theoretical positions and names of theorists with whom they are only partially familiar if they have heard of them at all students in particular are likely to turn to the web to find quick background information on theorists and theories however most web based information is inaccurate and or lacks depth students and professionals need a source to provide a quick overview of a particular theory and theorist with just the basics the who what where how and why if you will in response sage reference plans to publish the two volume theory in social and cultural anthropology an encyclopedia features benefits two volumes containing approximately 335 signed entries provide users with the most authoritative and thorough reference resource available on anthropology theory both in terms of breadth and depth of coverage to ease navigation between and among related entries a reader s guide groups entries thematically and each entry is followed by cross references in the electronic version the reader s guide combines with the cross references and a detailed index to provide robust search and browse capabilities an appendix with a chronology of anthropology theory allows students to easily chart directions and trends in thought and theory from early times to the present suggestions for further reading at the end of each entry and a master bibliography at the end guide readers to sources for more detailed research and discussion

The Oxford Handbook of Religion, Conflict, and Peacebuilding 2015-03-05 ecocriticism is a critical approach that focuses on the representation in literature of the non human elements of the natural world a method of inquiry that has been largely limited to literature written in english the aim of ecocritical approaches to literature in french is twofold to introduce ecocriticism to scholars of french language literature and to open ecocriticism to the vision and voices of french literature the chapters look at work not only from france but also from north america the caribbean and africa the discussions include fiction poetry film and pedagogy the goal of the collection is to demonstrate not only the applicability of ecocritical inquiry to literature in french but to demonstrate the possibilities of ecocritical theory on the study of french literature and also for ecocriticism itself this collection will be a useful resource both for scholars of french language literature and also for ecocritics who may have had only limited contact with literatures in languages other than english

Martin Buber on Myth (RLE Myth) 2010-04 this volume is the first in a new series of studies on the frontiers of international law the term frontier is traditionally associated with proximity to a boundary or a demarcation line but it is also a connecting point i e a passage or channel between spaces that are usually considered as separate entities the series aims to explore the visible and imaginary boundaries of scholarship in international law it is designed to test the existing table of contents vocabulary and limits of public international law to investigate lines and linkages between centre and periphery and to re map or re think some of its conceptual boundaries the current volume is written in this spirit it deals with the tension between unity and diversification which has gained a central place in the debate under the label of fragmentation it explores the meaning articulation and risks of this phenomenon in a specific area international criminal justice it brings together established and fresh voices who analyse different sites and contestations of this concept as well as its context and specific manifestations in the interpretation and application of international criminal law the volume thereby connects discourse on fragmentation with broader inquiry on the merits and discontents of legal pluralism in public international law
