during the heady democratic days of the fifth and fourth centuries the poorer members of athenian society the lower two classes of zeugitai and thetes enjoyed an unprecedented dominance in both domestic and foreign politics at home the participatory nature of the constitution required their presence not only in the lawcourts and assembly but also in most of the minor magistracies abroad they were the driving force of the navy which ensured athens control of the aegean and the black seas their participation at all levels was made possible by state pay for jury duty attendance in the assembly public office and military service in the fifth century state pay was financed largely through the tribute paid by members of the empire supplemented by the liturgical contributions of the rich and beginning during the war a property tax the eisphora in the fourth century almost the whole burden was shouldered by taxation upon the wealthy especially those who owned property in this book author phillip harding traces the major changes that occurred in the administration of the state that eventually deprived the lower classes of their supremacy and transferred power into the hands of the wealthy land owners things changed radically after athens defeat in the lamian or hellenic war in 322bc over the next several decades restriction of the franchise elimination of pay for some public offices the loss of the navy the increased dependence upon local grain from the larger estates in attika the removal of the tax

it was as if an angel was pushing so adolf galland absolute icon of the german described the messerschmitt 262 schwalbe record holder s first fighter in history with jet engine to enter into operational service the messerschmitt me 262 was a twin engine multi role jet fighter wing arrow developed and produced by the german company messerschmitt ag in the forties used by the luftwaffe during the final stages of world war ii he holds the distinction of being the first fighter in history with jet engine to enter into operational service and the first fighter twin jet it is considered the most advanced aircraft used by the germans also forerunner of fighter jets made in the soviet union after the war according to some historical allies with the me 262 the german aircraft industry created a plane that theoretically could have won the war for air defense and give back to the luftwaffe supremacy in germany compared with the fighters supplied to the allies at the time including the gloster meteor which would come into service shortly thereafter the german jet proved faster and more powerfully armed but many problems of development delayed the entry into service and the technical problems he suffered it made an operating too few examples in order to influence the tide of the air war in europe however unlike the jet planes of the allies which were used only for operational service and not clash with enemy aircraft the me 262 they shot down more than 100 aircraft including bombers and fighters
