A Celtic Temperament 2015-10-06 out of spite someone puts a false engagement notice in the local newspaper causing all parties great embarrassment
Studies in Robertson Davies' Deptford Trilogy 1980 a literary classic from one of canada's greatest storytellers a mixture of frailties is the vivid and moving conclusion to the salterton trilogy a mixture of frailties is robertson davis's first extended engagement with one of the great neuroses of canadian culture the former colony's artistic relationship with europe and particularly with britain davis begins his story with the funeral of louisa bridgetower the substantial income from her estate is to be used to send an unmarried young woman to europe to pursue an education in the arts mrs bridgetower's executors end up selecting monica gall an almost entirely unschooled singer whose sole experience comes from performing with the heart and hope gospel quartet a rough outfit sponsored by a small fundamentalist group monica soon finds herself in england a pupil of some of britain's most remarkable teachers and composers and she gradually blossoms from a canadian rube into a cosmopolitan soprano with a unique and tragicomic career a mixture of frailties is so much more than the story of monica gall's life in london and her education as a singer it is an account of her education as a human being the result is a vivid comic and frequently moving novel

The Merry Heart 1997 ramsay is a man twice born a man who has returned from the hell of the battle grave at passchendaele in world war i decorated with the victoria cross and destined to be caught in a no man's land where memory history and myth collide as ramsay tells his story it begins to seem that from boyhood he has exerted a perhaps mystical perhaps pernicious influence on those around him his apparently innocent involvement in such innocuous events as the throwing of a snowball or the teaching of card tricks to a small boy in the end prove neither innocent nor innocuous fifth business stands alone as a remarkable story told by a rational man who discovers that the marvelous is only another aspect of the real

Leaven of Malice 1980 the elder statesman of canadian letters continues to explore the themes of sin guilt and self discovery a masterful effort library journal
 connor gilmartin's inauspicious but much beloved mortal life comes to an untimely end when he discovers his wife in bed with one of his more ludicrous associates theater critic randall allard going death becomes a bit complicated when gilmartin's out of body experience stays an out of body experience enraged at being so unceremoniously cut down by his wife's lover gil vows revenge against the now panic stricken going but first gil must spend his afterlife seated next to his killer at a film festival where he views the exploits of his ancestors from the revolutionary era to his parents time an experience that changes the way he views his life and death mr davis is a tremendously enticing storyteller whether his characters are cajoling in welsh brogue or portaging a canoe through the northern wilderness but it's possible to ask now and then just how such and such an incident fits in the master plan of the book on most occasions however the author as if sensing our restiveness provides an answer the new york times davis's depiction of how the descendants of samuel gilmartin came to emigrate to british north america convincingly blends gritty humor including a hilarious welsh cursing contest with sympathetic portrayals of his characters kirkus reviews the unexpected conceit devised by the author of the deptford trilogy will surprise but likely not disappoint his fans publishers weekly

A Mixture of Frailties 1980 the first rate abundantly funny conclusion to the salterton trilogy following leaven of malice and tempest tost the new york times louisa bridgetower the imposing salterton matron has died the substantial income from her estate is to be used to send an unmarried young woman to europe to pursue an education in the arts mrs bridgetower's executors end up selecting monica gall an almost entirely unschooled singer whose sole experience comes from performing with the heart and hope gospel quartet a rough outfit sponsored by a small fundamentalist group monica soon finds herself in england a pupil of some of britain's most remarkable teachers and composers and she gradually blossoms from a canadian rube to a cosmopolitan soprano with a unique and tragicomic career davis is equally familiar with the world of the canadian provinces and with that of musical london and portrays both with rich humor and sympathetic understanding chicago tribune something of a virtuoso performance this relies more on its wit than its warmth but the musicianship is very knowledgeable and the fingerwork light kirkus reviews

Fifth Business 2002-05-30 amateur production of the tempest provides a colourful backdrop for an hilarious look at unrequited love mathematics teacher hector mackilwraith stirred and troubled by shakespeare's play falls in love with the beautiful griselda webster when griselda shows that she has plans of her own hector despairs and tries to commit suicide on the play's opening night

Murder and Walking Spirits 2019-04-23 in which david staunton continues his psychoanalysis in zurich and falls in love with his analyst doctor helena von haller

A Mixture of Frailties 2019-04-22 a delight a novel that travels 70 years of history on its own swift feet a book of love and wisdom loss and irony the boston sunday globe when father hobbes mysteriously dies at the high altar on good friday dr jonathan hullah whose holistic work has earned him the label cunning man for the wizard of folk tradition wants to know why the physician cum diagnostician's search for answers compels him to look back over his own long life he conjures vivid memories of the dazzling intellectual high jinks and compassionate philosophies of himself and his circle including flamboyant mystical curate charlie ireda cynical quixotic professor brocky gilmartin outrageous banker darcy dwyer and jocular muscular artist pansy todhunter in compelling and hilarious scenes from the divine comedy of life the cunning man reveals profound truth about being human the crowning achievement of one of the most learned amusing accomplished novelists of our time and of our century the new york times book review

Robertson Davies 1986 anthony burgess listed daves the rebel angels among the 99 best novels of our time and declared that daves himself is without doubt nobel prize material in this unusual novel daves protagonist is murdered in the first sentence of the book but he lingers as a ghost to view the exploits of his ancestors from the american revolution to the present

Tempest-tost 1997 born in thamesville ontario a student at queen s university in kingston in the 1930 s and editor and later publisher of the peterborough examiner from the 1940s to the mid 1960s playwright essayist critic professor and novelist robertson daves 1913 1995 was one of canada s pre eminent literary voices for more than a half century daves with his generous beard and donnish manner was the very epitome of the man of letters a term he abhorred best known for his deptford trilogy of novels fifth business the manticore world of wonders he also wrote two other trilogies salterton and cornish and was at work on the third volume of another trilogy toronto when he died with a life as rich in character and colour as that found in his fiction and essays daves had a great fondness for magic and myth both of which are found in abundance in his work along with a prodigious streak of wry humour

A Gathering of Ghost Stories 1995-09 this collection of essays on the writing of robertson daves addresses the basic problems in reading his work by looking at the topics of doubling disguise irony paradox and dwelling in gaps or spaces in between the essays present new insights on a broad range of topics in daves oeuvre and represent one of the first major discussions devoted to daves work since his death in 1995

The Manticore 2005-12 a collection of essays filled with pleasantly rambling opinions about everything from self help books to erotica from the celebrated canadian author the chronicle journal an urbane robust and wonderfully opinionated voice from canada sometimes called america s attic speaks here of the delights of reading and of what mass education has done to readers today to taste to books to culture with his usual wit and breadth of vision robertson daves ranges through the world of letters books renowned and obscure old and recent english irish canadian and american writers both forgotten and fondly remembered sweet reason in the raiment of well woven prose most assuredly good humor agraze over broad literary demesnes no doubt of it forgotten popular favorites rescued and rehabilitated certainly a parade of agreeable prejudices he would not be a true canadian if he did not have them lightheartedness where needed yes seriousness where it counts yes wit satirical touches firm indignations sound sense good taste judiciousness cosmopolitan breadth of view urbanity sanity unexpected eccentricities educated humanism by all means it is indeed by all these means and more that this book of essays and observations bestows its multiple benefactions and anyone picking it up is bound north to pleasure and profit the new york times

Tempest-Tost 2006-03-01 in this perceptive and entertaining memoir of a doctor s life we encounter at least one miraculous cure a bad breath contest of olympian standards tales of cannibals and tsarist bordellos medical solutions to literary mysteries and startling insights into the secrets of a doctor s consulting room
