Parliaments in EU Economic Governance 2020-05-21

this book considers national parliaments and the european parliament s role in european union eu economic governance it examines the recent strengthening of parliamentary involvement limitations to improvements and where and how democratic deficits still exist it also provides the basis for some reflections concerning possible future evolutions and improvements to eu economic governance the eu s economic governance framework has been significantly strengthened as a response to the 2008 economic and financial crisis and the establishment of a new banking union in 2013 it is thus key to determine whether these additional transfers of powers to the eu level have been accompanied by an equivalent empowerment of the national and european legislatures allowing them to ensure adequate democratic legitimation the chapters comprehensively re examine the democratic throughput legitimacy of and within the eu s economic governance by focusing on national parliaments on the european parliament and on mechanisms for interparliamentary cooperation this book was originally published as a special issue of the journal of european

Rwanda Food and Agriculture Policy Monitoring Review 2020 2020-12-15

rwanda s agricultural sector accounts for about 29 percent of gdp and employs about 72 percent of the population that is economically active it is still the dominant source of income for the majority of the poor who live in rural areas and is of significant importance in achieving the national priority objectives of sustainable economic growth food security and poverty alleviation the report provides quantitative evidence on how the government of rwanda s policies and expenditure decisions have supported its food and agriculture sector over the past decade more in particular it provides information on the extent to which producers of key food rice and wheat and export crops tea and coffee are being supported or penalized by the policy also it sheds light on the level and composition of public expenditures on food and agriculture and how these have been changing over time and finally it assesses the coherence between the government s agricultural policies and its overall strategic priorities and provides insight into whether these are coherent conclusions and recommendations are believed to provide guidance for policy decision making and reforming of policies that constrain productivity growth the main engine for agriculture transformation and development

Policy-induced market distortions along agricultural value chains: Evidence from Ethiopia and Nigeria 2021-05-20

the performance of agrifood value chains of vital importance for smallholder farmers in developing countries measuring and understanding how government policies such taxes subsidies minimum support prices and government procurement impact particular value chains is essential to minimize unintended consequences for value chain actors this analysis of distortions in value chains in ethiopia sheep and goats and nigeria cacao and palm oil uses nominal rates of protection nrps to measure the impact of policies on domestic prices for producers and consumers using the nrp methodology is effective for highlighting the significant impact of agricultural policies on prices from the local to the country level and along entire agrifood value chains

Agricultural policy incentives in sub-Saharan Africa in the last decade (2005-2016) 2018-06-01

fao agricultural development economics technical study this report shows diverging results across countries and commodities although aggregate figures indicate that price incentives to agriculture were increasing across the period overall import tariffs and price support are thought to be the main drivers of this trend

Analysis of Agricultural and Fisheries Policy in The Bahamas 2018-09-21

although agriculture and fisheries account for only 1.6% of the gdp of the bahamas they produce 3% of all jobs and are important for the diversification of the economy the government of the bahamas supports agriculture through a combination of value chain development measures research and extension services infrastructure development and border protection support to producers averaged 19.08% of gross farm receipts in 2012 2014 and a significant share of support 29% was provided in the form of transfers to general services at the same time total transfers arising from agricultural policy reached only 0.28% of the national gdp reducing barriers to trade reducing regulations and streamlining access to incentives for farmers and improving information services will help increase the efficiency and competitiveness of the agricultural sector this report by the european union committee examines the progress of the european union in initiating a strategy for jobs and growth across the community as a whole the background to this report stems from the spring european council meeting in 2000 in lisbon and the launch of an economic reform agenda the committee observes that since the lisbon agenda little progress has been made and the performance of many of the larger european economies has been poor the committee has noted that certain worrying signs of protectionist behaviour have developed especially regarding barriers of cross border mergers the eu has recognized this weak performance and the agenda was relaunched in 2005 with a greater focus on the key economic priorities of more growth and jobs also all member states are now required to produce an annual national action plan highlighting the policies being pursued to improve economic growth and increase employment the committee sets out a number of recommendations to further push forward the priorities of growth and jobs including that the commission should seek to complete the progress towards an internal market that member states should influence one another in the development of good practice through statistical comparison of their economic progress and agree on quantifiable targets that the format of the national action plans should include not only the successes but where countries are underperforming that the agenda be given a higher public profile price and affordability are key barriers to accessing sufficient safe nutritious food to meet dietary needs and food preferences for an active and healthy life in this study the least cost items available in local markets are identified to estimate the cost of three diet types energy sufficient nutrient adequate and healthy meeting food based dietary guidelines for price and availability the world bank s international comparison program icp dataset is used which provides food prices in local currency units lcu for 680 foods and non alcoholic beverages in 170 countries in 2017 in addition country case studies are developed with national food price datasets in united republic of tanzania malawi ethiopia ghana and myanmar the findings reveal that healthy diets by any definition are far more expensive than the entire international poverty line of usd 1 90 let alone the upper bound portion of the poverty line that can credibly be reserved for food of usd 1 20 the cost of healthy diets exceeds food expenditures in most countries in the global south the findings suggest that nutrition education and behaviour change alone will not substantially improve dietary consumption where nutrient adequate and healthy diets even in their cheapest form are unaffordable for the majority of the poor to make healthy diets cheaper agricultural policies research and development need to shift toward a diversity of nutritious foods

Cost and affordability of healthy diets across and within countries 2020-12-12

this book examines the relations between nigeria and south africa and their implications for regional influence across the african continent with the largest and third largest economies in the region and a historical status as the major peacemakers on the continent it is often argued that africa s fate is directly linked to the success or failure of these regional powers while there is widespread reference to each state s capabilities and regional influence in the extant literature little analysis is offered on relations between nigeria and south africa and their impact on regional governance and provision of public goods on the continent this book attempts to fill the gap by engaging issues such as the hegemonic competence of the states their credentials for a permanent seat at the unsc their efforts towards regional integration and their efforts towards combating the dark side of globalization including climate change drug trafficking and xenophobia it also engages a gender perspective to these states relations as well as their experiences of transitional justice providing an in depth comparative analysis of the two so called african powerhouses this volume will be of interest to policy makers academics and students interested in nigeria and south africa s foreign policy regional powerhood and the african peace security and development agenda covid 19 has resulted in a shock to agrifood systems around the world with the potential for low and middle income countries to be particularly affected although policy responses were more muted than during the 2007 2008 world food crisis efforts to insulate from supply shocks and ensure local availability during covid 19 have generally included export restrictions and import tariff reductions among other responses in an effort to enable rapid market monitoring and realignment we develop a new indicator defined as a monthly nominal rate of protection express which seeks to isolate as much as possible the effect of trade and market policies on domestic prices in real time in order to understand how they responded this analysis examines changes to this indicator during the first wave of the pandemic in 27 low and middle income countries for the most consumed staple cereals of the poor and food insecure we show that agricultural price incentives declined by 12.6 percentage points compared to the same months in previous years suggesting that retail domestic price spikes may have largely been mitigated or avoided however impacts varied across countries and commodities and this indicator can serve as a tool for examining primary drivers of changes and conducting causal analysis to facilitate adequate agrifood policy responses to support economic recovery in the post covid 19 era this book studies systemic vulnerabilities and their impact on states and individual survival the author theorizes that the structure of the international system is a product of the distribution of capabilities and vulnerabilities across states states function or behave in terms of these systemic threats the author examines a number of specific case studies focusing on military economic environmental political and cyber vulnerabilities and how different states are impacted by them arguing that current attempts to securitize these vulnerabilities through defensive foreign policies are largely failing the book makes the case for prioritizing economic development and human security
