for old and new studies in decision making and risk analysis this book should stand at the watershed studies of conflict resolution and public policy will surely now have to take account of the model investigation provided by the iiasa team and many things will not be the same again this is a report of inquiries into the siting of liquefied energy gas leg facilities in the federal republic of germany the netherlands the united kingdom and the united states the risks of transporting this highly combustible stuff and the economic benefits of being able to bring a natural energy source from one side of the globe to the other holding it and piping it out as needed make leg a model case for studying the public response to dangerous technology the dangers of leg are different from those of nuclear power for instance where the response too often becomes entangled with the fear of nuclear war the dangers of leg include uncontrollable explosions rather than insidious contamination but the degree of dangerousness is very much of the same order as that of nuclear power and is at least as difficult to assess in four different countries the constitutional procedures involved in obtaining approval of nuclear or leg facilities are on record the four case histories here are a model for comparative study of conflict resolution the period over which the negotiations developed is much the same the first summer study at iiasa brought together a cross section of individuals from different disciplines and nationalities all the participants have had an interest in the role of risk analysis given the institutional arrangements which guide decision making for new technologies this book contains edited versions of the papers presented at the meeting as well as a transcript of the discussions which took place it provides the ingredients for a broader framework for studying the problems associated with technology and society where risk is representative of a much wider set of concerns than simply the probability and consequences of a hazardous accident the bundesministerium fuer forschung und technologie has an interest in promoting risk and safety research because of these new developments in society over the past ten years in particular there has been a diminished confidence in experts statements on risk and a realization that many of the events which are being examined are not subject to detailed scientific analysis there has also been an increasing recognition that distinctions must be made between analysis of the risk associated with an event and people's values and preferences another important development is the concern by the public that they participate more fully in the decision process on these issues these concerns were articulated in both the papers and the open discussions at the summer study
