a late victorian wag once claimed that all men were cads aesthetes or trade in his time bunny lucas 1857 1923 was said to be all three but david pracy here uses a wide range of primary and secondary sources to make the case for us to think of lucas as an aesthete yet his was a life full of intriguing paradoxes a devout churchman he was the unlikely co respondent in an edwardian divorce case conservative in character he entered the risky profession of stock jobber and probably lost thousands of pounds in an ill advised investment famous as one of the most stylish defensive batsmen of his age he bowled a ball that inspired a short story by sir arthur conan doyle in a remarkable first class career spanning 34 seasons he was for some seven years an automatic choice for england and the gentlemen but dropped out of top level cricket to play for his school old boys side and for the then minor county of essex only to help them achieve first class status and enjoy his own cricketing indian summer born into a wealthy upper middle class family in a fashionable part of london s west end he became a great favourite with the often raucous east london crowds that supported essex at leytton as robin hobbs suggests in his foreword if bunny lucas had received the media attention given nowadays to players he would have been a sporting super star
