complete instructions on how to practice the generation stage of guhyasamaja from a contemporary tibetan buddhist master with a new english translation of the self generation ritual the guhyasamāja tantra is one of the unexcelled yoga tantras of vajrayana buddhism in the initial generation stage practice one engages in a prescribed sequence of visualizations of oneself as an enlightened being in a purified environment in order to prepare one s mind and body to engage in the second stage the completion stage the latter works directly with the subtle energies of one s mind and body and transforms them into the enlightened mind and body of a buddha in this book gyumé khensur lobsang jampa a former abbot of gyumé tantric college provides complete instructions on how to practice the generation stage of guhyasamāja explaining the visualizations offerings and mantras involved what they symbolize and the purpose they serve these instructions which are usually imparted only orally from master to student after the student has been initiated into the guhyasamāja mandala are now being published in english for the first time and are supplemented by extracts from key written commentaries in the footnotes to support practitioners who have received the required transmissions from a holder of this lineage the complete self generation ritual is included in the second part of the book with the tibetan on facing pages which can be used by those who read tibetan and want to recite the ritual in tibetan

Kadam: Stages of the Path, Mind Training, and Esoteric Practice, Part One

a comprehensive selection of texts central to the kadam lineage of tibetan buddhism including topics like mind training stages of the path and esoteric tantric instructions the treasury of precious instructions by jamgön kongtrul lodrö taye one of tibet s greatest buddhist masters is a shining jewel of tibetan literature presenting essential teachings from the entire spectrum of practice lineages that existed in tibet in its eighteen volumes kongtrul brings together some of the most important texts on key topics of buddhist thought and practice as well as authoring significant new sections of his own the kadam lineage derives from the teachings and practices taught by the indian master atiša and his tibetan students atiša spent twelve years in tibet and left a scholarly and devotional lineage that would be significant to all traditions of tibetan buddhism but particularly the geluk the tradition of the dalai lamas which fashioned themselves as the new kadam tradition jamgön kongtrul s catalog to the treasury of precious instructions classifies kadam literature into five categories treatise instruction esoteric practice ancillary works and associated works the first two are the main topics covered in this volume lamrim or stages of the path and lojong or mind training these two kadam teachings continue to exert a significant influence on tibetan buddhism and therefore represent the legacy of the kadam tradition the first centers around the lamp for the path to enlightenment written by the eleventh century indian master atīśa who spent twelve years in tibet and this volume also includes stories of atīśa s life and travels the second set of teachings consists of aphorisms known as the seven point mind training meant to be used as contemplative practices to develop compassion and transform the mind these selections show not only the foundational texts of the kadam tradition but also the widespread impact these teachings continued to have across traditions

The Inner Science of Buddhist Practice

the inner science of buddhist practice contains translations of texts by two historically important indian buddhist scholars vasubhandhu s summary of the five heaps and sthiramati s commentary on vasubandhu s root text these works present the traditional buddhist analysis of ordinary experience and provide rich resources for studying buddhist and western interpretations of the psychology of spiritual development according to buddhist doctrine the mind of an ordinary person even at birth holds deeply ingrained predispositions that lead us to perceive the elements of everyday experience mistakenly and to believe for instance that entities persist through time that the pleasures we pursue are genuinely satisfying that our own personal being is governed by a real self and that all physical and mental phenomena have a distinct independent and real essence our everyday language only serves to reinforce and deepen these erring notions buddhist teaching reveals how to reject these flawed beliefs and replace them with a model that both more accurately represents our experience and is indispensable to the realizations that will free us from cyclic existence the ability to accomplish this rests largely with learning the unique vocabulary and explanations found in buddhist literature since that is how we will discover what is mistaken about our untutored beliefs and where we will gain the intellectual skills that are needed to construct a new and more refined conceptual infrastructure engle s introduction explores how the material contained in the two translations can specifically improve practice of the tibetan teaching system known as lamrim or stages of the path each of the levels of motivation described by the lamrim teachings is examined in light of the doctrine of the five heaps form feeling conception formations and consciousness to show how greater understanding of the classical buddhist doctrines can enhance practice of that portion of the instruction
