tree climbing students volunteering soldiers island bound recluses the characters in david constantine s remarkable new collection are united by an urge to absent themselves to abscond from the intolerable pressures of normal life and withdraw into strange ideas political causes even private languages viewed from without they appear sometimes absurd like the vicar who starts conversing with the devil when his wife leaves him sometimes tragic like the vision of a suicide being fished out of the river irwell such is the force of constantine s compassion however we cannot help but follow each character deep into their isolation and the further we descend through the strata of each personal history the ever changing landscapes that bear down upon them the more remarkable the discovery at very bottom that glimmers of redemption abide like the babbling springs uncovered in the scars of a quarry that will one day heal it with a lake or the secret haven of the title story offering more than physical refuge but a safe house for dreams by the winner of the bbc national short story prize 2010 shortlisted for the 2010 frank o connor international short story award
