The Smile of a Ghost 2012-04-01 the parish priest must solve the mystery of a young boy's deathly fall from the Ludlow Castle ruins and discovers a hidden obsession with the afterlife amongst the ancient streets. Compassionate, original and sharply contemporary, Rickman's crime series is one of the best around. Spectator in the affluent historic town of Ludlow, a teenage boy dies in a fall from the castle ruins. Accident or suicide? No great mystery, so why does the boy's uncle, retired detective Andy Mumford, turn to diocesan exorcist Merrily Watkins? More people will die before Merrily's own future is uncertain. Uncovering a dangerous obsession with suicide, death and the afterlife hidden within these shadowed medieval streets.

The Secrets of Pain 2011-09-01 the 11th instalment in the Merrily Watkins series. The elite warriors of the Hereford-based SAS know all about pain and the enduring of it. Syd Spicer, ex-SAS trooper, has found himself back in the regiment this time as its chaplain, responsible for the spiritual welfare of the hardest men in or out of uniform, faced with a case which would normally be passed discreetly to Hereford diocesan exorcist Merrily Watkins. Spicer is forced, for security reasons, to try and handle it himself and is coming close to a breakdown. Meanwhile, the scattered communities along the Welsh border have their own crisis with recession biting deep. Urban crime has spilled into the countryside and old barbaric evils are revived when a wealthy landowner is hacked to death in his own farmyard. The senior investigating officer, DI Frannie Bliss, is caught in the backlash, his private life in danger of exposure with the framework of her own world beginning to crack. Merrily Watkins is persuaded to venture into areas where neither a priest nor a woman is welcome to unearth secrets linked with the border's pagan past, secrets which she knows can never be disclosed.

Curfew 2011-10-29 a standalone supernatural thriller from the author of the chilling Merrily Watkins mysteries.
