a framework for knowledge ownership that challenges the mechanisms of inequality in modern society scholars of science technology medicine and law have all tended to emphasize knowledge as the sum of human understanding and its ownership as possession by law breaking with traditional discourse on knowledge property as something that concerns mainly words and intellectual history or science and law dagmar schäfer annapurna mamidipudi and marius buning propose technology as a central heuristic for studying the many implications of knowledge ownership toward this end they focus on the notions of knowledge and ownership in courtrooms workshops policy and research practices while also shedding light on scholarship itself as a powerful tool for making explicit the politics inherent in knowledge practices and social order the book presents case studies showing how diverse knowledge economies are created and how inequalities arise from them unlike scholars who have fragmented this discourse across the disciplines of anthropology sociology and history the editors highlight recent developments in the emerging field of the global history of knowledge as science as economy and as culture the case studies reveal how notions of knowing and owning emerge because they reciprocally produce and determine each other s limits and possibilities that is how we know inevitably affects how we can own what we know and how we own always impacts how and what we are able to know contributors dagmar schäfer annapurna mamidipudi cynthia brokaw marius buning viren murthy marjolijn bol amy e slaton james leach myles w jackson lissant bolton vivek s oak jörn oeder as economic technological and cultural change gathers pace across the world issues of music heritage and sustainability have become ever more pressing discourse on intangible cultural heritage has developed in complex ways in recent years and musical practices have been transformed by safeguarding agendas music as heritage takes stock of these transformations bringing new ethnographic and historical perspectives to bear on our encounters with music heritage the volume evaluates the cultural politics ethics and audiovisual representation of music heritage the methods and consequences of music transmission across national borders and the perennial issues of revival change and innovation unesco s 2003 convention for the safeguarding of the intangible cultural heritage provides an essential reference point for studies of music heritage however this volume also pays attention to important spheres of musical activity that lie outside of unesco s reach and the reasons why some repertoires of music are chosen for safeguarding while others are not some practices of art music in europe explored in this book for example have received little attention despite being susceptible to endangerment developing a comparative framework that cuts across genre distinctions and disciplinary boundaries music as heritage explores how music cultures are being affected by heritage discourse and the impact of international and national policies on grass roots music practices
