she had always done as she pleased with nary a thought to the consequences indeed sally mallory's great success throughout the ton as a fine portrait painter had been aided by spirited independence along with wit and extraordinary talent but now it seemed she had gone too far impetuous sally had compromised her reputation and now was to be forced into a marriage of convenience with the most distinguished art critic in london the cold and arrogant duke ian frobisher ian was proud unbending quick to anger and though sally sensed the hurt beneath his disdain she was desperate to escape a loveless union impulsively she accepted the disreputable sir percy badham's shocking proposal unlike most victorian women sally is completely independent with her own successful business and a comfortable home for her young daughter harriet but sally's whole world is about to collapse a stranger emerges claiming to be both her husband and harriet's father and threatening all that she has when sasha discovers her two and a half year old son is being physically abused by his childminder she assumes the child protection authorities will spring into action and have this woman brought to justice or at least bar her from working with children she was wrong no go to sally's is the true story of one mother's fight against the system to have her child's voice heard with actual letters and interview transcripts the story of this family's ordeal is essential reading for every parent and anyone who works with children it shows how easy it is to become a childminder and how hard it is to expose a bad one it is an insight of value to all parents into the challenges of making an allegation of child abuse it is a guide to the practicalities of taking on the child protection authorities when they fail in their duties it is an overview of the people and organizations parents need to know about when making a complaint it is written by a journalist applying all her skills and forensic approach to detail no go to sally's won't just make you cry it will make you angry and determined that this never happens to you and your child pre service and beginning teachers have to negotiate an
