this book is for graduate students and others who want to become more productive writers it is especially written for those who want to increase their motivation focus and persistence to move a project to completion overcome procrastination and perfectionistic tendencies reduce or write in spite of their anxiety and fear of writing manage their time work energy and advisor for greater productivitythe process or craft of sustained writing is not a matter that is taught to undergraduate or graduate students as part of their studies leaving most at sea about how to start a practice that is central to a career in academe and vital in many other professional occupations this book grew out of conversations jan allen has held with her graduate students for over 30 years and reflects the fruit of the writing workshops and boot camps she has conducted at three universities her own and numerous colleagues experiences with writing and advising as well as the feedback she receives from her popular productive writer listserv while jan allen recognizes that writing is not an innate talent for most of us she demonstrates that it is a process based on skills which we can identify learn practice and refine she focuses both on the process and habits of writing as well as on helping you uncover what kind of writer are you and reflect on your challenges and successes with a light touch and an engaging sense of humor she proposes strategies to overcome procrastination and distractions and build a writing practice to enable you to become a more productive and prolific writer jan allen proposes that you read one of her succinct chapters each devoted to a specific strategy or writing challenge each day or once a week when you find one that increases your concentration motivation or endurance make it a habit try it for two weeks charting the resulting increased productivity it will become part of your repertoire of writing and productivity tools to which you can progressively add because school history often relies on reading and writing and has its own discipline specific challenges it is important to understand the language demands of this content area the typical writing requirements and the language expectations of historical discourse history uses language in specialized ways so it can be challenging for students to construct responses to historical events it is only through a focus on these specialized ways of presenting and constructing historical content that students will see how language is used to construe particular contexts this book provides the results of a qualitative study that investigated the language resources that 8th and 11th grade students drew on to write an exposition and considered the role of writing in school history the study combined a functional linguistic analysis of student writing with educational considerations in the underresearched content area of history data set consisted of writing done by students who were english language learners and other culturally and linguistically diverse students from two school districts in california the book is an investigation of expository school history writing and teachers expectations for this type of writing school history writing refers to the kind of historical writing expected of students at the pre college levels
