structured and thoughtful text the results and implications of over 20 studies conducted by the authors are combined with a much larger number of studies from their systematic reviews and the implications are spelled out for the research community policy makers schools wanting to run their own evaluations and for practitioners using evidence the sutherland inquiry hcp 62 session 2008 09 isbn 9780102958393 is an independent inquiry remitted by the office of the qualifications and examinations regulator ofqual and the secretary of state for children schools and families into the delivery of the national curriculum tests in 2008 in july 2008 1 2 million pupils heard that their national curriculum test results would be delayed the test delivery service represented a failure in customer delivery service to the pupils schools and also the markers upon whom the national curriculum testing regime relies the primary responsibility must therefore rest with the american organisation ets global bv ets which won the public contract to deliver the tests and failed its customers this report examines how this organisation secured the contract what its plans were and why its systems and process as a whole were not properly tested the report will also describe how ets s systems failed during the test delivery process there was also a failure on the part of the government s non departmental public body the qualifications and curriculum authority to deliver its remit the report also sets out the procurement process that qca used to select its delivery supplier ets and how it managed the contract the report sets out a number of recommendations on how test delivery can improve in future years and has set out a number of key priorities including that the delivery process of the national curriculum tests should be modernised and improved in consultation with the marking community including piloting online marking that whatever process is used should be thoroughly piloted and project managed to ensure schools and pupils get their results on time that the customer service provided to markers must be vastly improved to ensure that they are properly supported and are able to access up to date information why are so many teachers leaving the profession increasingly early in their careers what harm is being done to pupils educational prospects by persistent teacher shortages why are teachers held uniquely responsible for the effects of poverty on children s progress and attainment what are the unintended consequences of rushed government education policy making and what can be done about all of the above supported by the latest international and national evidence support not surveillance seeks to address these important questions laying bare how the inadequacy of westminster policies is compounded by an unfair ofsted inspection regime dr mary boustead draws on her years of expertise and access to decision makers to expose the gap between ministerial rhetoric and the daily reality encountered by teachers in their classrooms across england ending on a set of proposals to move beyond the seemingly perennial crisis in teacher recruitment and retention support not surveillance is an unflinching call to end the failed experiment of government interventionism in classrooms many teachers schools parents and community organisations feel that standards education is not serving us well it has proved ineffective at preparing many students for work higher education and general wellbeing nor does it keep students engaged and intrinsically motivated capable of sustaining interest in education and learning there is a suppressed desire to transform educational outcomes and enquiry based learning ebl and project based learning pbl are the prime candidates for achieving such a goal ebl is education that is driven by curiosity questions and problem solving with the capacity to produce results that are equal to or better than standard outcomes this new text provides a critical examination of ebl and pbl by exploring a wide range of international exemplars and considering the benefits readings to reflect upon and reflective questions that all help to show students and teachers what is considered to be best and most innovative practice and how they can use that knowledge in their own teaching to the greatest effect the book draws on the experience of three leading professionals in primary art and design peter gregory claire march and suzy tutchell to provide the essential guide to teaching art and design for all trainee and qualified primary teachers a complete guide to understanding learning from and teaching bilingual and eal children in schools early years and primary are often seen as very separate stages of development although children are expected to progress from one key stage to another in a seamless way and the historical and philosophical ideas underpinning practice at the different stages are often the same or similar to be fully effective professionals need to understand and reflect on both children's experiences before and after the stage they are currently working in and the historical and current ideas and practice the current drive is to equip professionals working with young children with higher level understandings and skills and this involves consideration of the key historical and current theories and the development of the conceptual and philosophical frameworks which positively impact on current practice the strengths of this book are that it develops the necessary understandings and skills and closes the gap between professionals working together to support children holistic development it also provides opportunities to engage in critical debate on current issues in professional practice as identified in national and international reports and develop their skills through this engagement it will be of benefit to a
