000 years into the past mary jo maynes and ann waltner tell the story of this fundamental unit from the beginnings of domestication and human settlement they consider the codification of rules governing marriage in societies around the ancient world the changing conceptions of family wrought by the heightened pace of colonialism and globalization in the modern world and how state policies shape families today the authors illustrate ways in which differences in gender and generation have affected family relations over the millennia cooperation between family members by birth or marriage has driven expansions of power and fusions of culture in times and places as different as ancient mesopotamia where kings daughters became priestesses who mediated among the various cultures and religions of their fathers kingdom and sixteenth century mexico in which alliances between spanish men and indigenous women variously allowed for consolidation of colonial power or empowered resistance to colonial rule but family discord has also driven and been driven by historical events such as china s 1919 may fourth movement in which young people
