social justice transformation and knowledge policy workplace learning and skills examines the policy contexts in which lifelong learning vocational education and training and skill development is set it provides a critique of neo liberalism and its impact on vocational education and training and lifelong learning it interrogates potentially progressive policy interventions that take for granted capitalist relations as these can become a form of comfort radicalism that whilst calling for structural change remain lodged within capitalism such analyses are limited particularly in austere conditions of worklessness with increasing numbers of workers surplus to the requirements of capital offering
