across countries and time asylum seekers and refugees have been represented in a variety of ways in some representations they appear negatively as dangers threatening to over run a country or a region with floods of incompatible strangers in others the same people are portrayed positively with compassion and pictured as desperately in need of assistance how these competing perceptions are received has significant consequences for determining public policy human rights international agreements and the realization of cultural diversity and so it is imperative to understand how these images are perpetuated to this end this volume reflects on museum practice and the contexts stories and images of asylum seekers and refugees prevalent in our mass media based on case studies from australia new zealand and the united kingdom the overall findings are illustrative of narratives and images common to museums and the media throughout the world they aim to challenge political rhetoric and populist media imagery and consider what forms of dissent are likely to be sustained and what narratives ultimately break through and can lead to empathy and positive political change in this path breaking book the author argues that european countries political economic policies practices and discourses have changed profoundly in response to globalization and europeanization but they have not converged although national policies may now be more similar especially where they follow from common european policies they are not the same national practices although moving in the same general direction toward greater market orientation continue to be differentiable into not just one or even two but three varieties of capitalism and national discourses that generate and legitimate changes in policies and practices not only remain distinct they matter the book is a tour de force which combines sophisticated theoretical insights and innovative methods to show that european countries generally but in particular britain france and germany for which the book provides lengthy case studies have had very different experiences of economic adjustment and will continue to do so into the future this book studies the interactions between monetary and fiscal policies in the euro area it carefully discusses the process of policy competition and the structure of policy cooperation as to policy competition the focus is on competition between the european central bank the american central bank the german government and the french government as to policy cooperation the focus is on the same institutions these are higher dimensional issues the policy targets are price stability and full employment the policy makers follow co turkey or gradualist strategies the policy decisions are taken sequentially or simultaneously monetary and fiscal policies have spillover effects special features of this book are numerical simulations of policy competition and numerical solutions to policy cooperation the present book is part of a larger research project on european monetary union see the references at the back of the book some parts of this project were presented at the world congress of the international economic association other parts were presented at the international conference on
