347 beginning with a conversation prompted by african american scholars like dr alvin poussaint of harvard medical school in 2007 to the current black lives matter movement there has been much debate about what led to the deaths of trayvon martin and michael brown among others as well as other systemic challenges that undermine black thriving anthony bradley has assembled a team of scholars and religious leaders to provide a distinctly christian perspective on what is needed for black communities to thrive from within in addition to the social and structural issues that must be addressed within black communities there are opportunities for social change based on god s vision for human flourishing covering topics like the black family hip hop mental health mentoring women masculinity and the church this book will open your eyes to fresh ways to participate in solutions that will truly set black america free although the black lives matter movement keeps the church on the margins the authors in this volume believe that enduring change cannot happen unless god speaks directly to these issues in light of the gospel with contributions from vincent bacote bruce fields rev howard brown ralph c watkins rev eric m mason rev lance lewis rev anthony carter ken jones natalie haslem rev ken jones rihana mason yvonne rb banks raise a glass for an anzac run for an anzac camp under the stars for an anzac is there anything australians won t do to keep the anzac legend at the centre of our national story but standing firm on the other side of the anzac enthusiasts is a chorus of critics claiming that the appetite for anzac is militarising our history and indoctrinating our children so how are we to make sense of this struggle over how we remember the great war anzac the unauthorised biography cuts through the clamour to provide a much needed historical perspective on the battle over anzac it traces how since 1915 australia s memory of the great war has declined and surged reflecting
