Autumn in Carthage

2014-03-05

the nether side of passion is madness nathan price is a college professor with crippling impairments seeking escape from his prison of necessity one day in a package of seventeenth century documents from salem village he stumbles across a letter by his best friend jamie who had disappeared six months before the document is dated 1692 the height of the witch trials the only potential lead a single mention of carthage a tiny town in the wisconsin northern highland the mystery catapults nathan from chicago to the wisconsin wilderness there he meets alanna heir to an astonishing mittel european legacy of power and sacrifice in her and in the gentle townfolk of carthage nathan finds the refuge for which he has long yearned but simon the town elder is driven by demons of his own and may well be entangled in jamie s disappearance and that of several carthaginians as darkness stretches toward alanna nathan may have no choice but to risk it all moving from the grimness of chicago s south side to the wisconsin hinterlands to seventeenth century salem this is a story of love of sacrifice of terrible passions and of two wounded souls quietly reaching for the deep peace of sanctuary
