ROIC

2017-11

ROIC is a measure of the efficiency of a company's investments. It is calculated as operating profit divided by invested capital. A high ROIC indicates that a company is generating a high return on its investments, while a low ROIC indicates that a company is generating a low return on its investments. ROIC is a key metric for investors and analysts to evaluate a company's performance and to compare it to its peers in the industry.
