the supernatural sublime explores the long neglected element of the supernatural in films from spain and mexico by focusing on the social and cultural contexts of their production and reception their adaptations of codes and conventions for characters and plot and their use of cinematic techniques to create the experience of emotion without explanation deploying the overarching concepts of the supernatural and the sublime raúl rodríguez hernández and claudia schaefer detail the dovetailing of the unnatural and the experience of limitlessness associated with the sublime the supernatural sublime embeds the films in the social histories of twentieth and twenty first century mexico and spain both of which made a forced leap into modernity after historical periods founded on official ideologies and circumscribed visions of the nation evoking kant s definition of the experience of the sublime rodríguez hernández and schaefer concentrate on the unrepresentable and the contradictory that oppose purported universal truths and instead offer up illusion deception and imagination through cinema itself a type of illusion writing with light modernism in music still arouses passions and is riven by controversies taking root in the early decades of the twentieth century it achieved ideological dominance for almost three decades following the second world war before becoming the object of widespread critique in the last two decades of the century both from critics and composers of a postmodern persuasion and from prominent scholars associated with the new musicology yet these critiques have failed to dampen its ongoing resilience the picture of modernism has considerably broadened and diversified and has remained a pivotal focus of debate well into the twenty first century this research companion does not seek to limit what musical modernism might be at the same time it resists any dilution of the term that would see its indiscriminate application to practically any and all music of a certain period in addition to addressing issues already well established in modernist studies such as aesthetics history institutions place diaspora cosmopolitanism production and performance communication technologies and the interface with postmodernism this volume also explores topics that are less established among them modernism and affect modernism and comedy modernism versus the contemporary and the crucial distinction between modernism in popular culture and a popular modernism a modernism of the people in doing so this text seeks to define modernism in music by probing its margins as much as by restating its supposed essence if parapolitics a branch of radical criminology that studies the interactions between public entities and clandestine agencies is to develop as an academic discipline then it must develop a coherent theory of aesthetics in order to successfully perform its primary function to render perceptible extra judicial phenomena that have hitherto resisted formal classification wilson offers the work of h p lovecraft 1890 1937 as an example of the relevance of subversive literature in this case cosmic horror and the weird tale to the parapolitical criminologist cosmic horror is a form of writing that relies heavily upon the epistemological assumption of a radical and irreconcilable disjunction between appearance and reality perception and truth in many ways the well constructed weird tale strongly resembles the hard boiled detective story or the noir thriller in that the resolution of the narrative hinges upon a dramatically shattering confrontation with an unspeakable reality apart from its obvious utilization of conspiracy theory the primary attraction of the lovecraftian text lies with its remarkably sophisticated utilization of two central tropes of classical aesthetic theory the sublime and the grotesque not only does lovecraft s oeuvre represent a remarkable use of both of these motifs but the raw literary power of the lovecraftian weird tale serves as an outstanding exemplar for the parapolitical scholar to emulate in formulating an alternative mode of discourse or poetics the monochrome a single color work of art is highly ambiguous for some it epitomizes purity and is art reduced to its essence for others it is just a stunt the proverbial emperor s new clothes why are monochrome works both so admired and such an easy target of scorn why does a monochrome look so simple and yet is so challenging to comprehend and what is it that drives artists to create such works in this illuminating book simon morley unpacks the meanings of the monochrome as it has developed internationally over the twentieth century to today in doing so he also explores how artists have understood what they make how critics variously interpret it and how art is encountered by viewers the book develops a new approach to and a distinct reading of the contemporary memorial building boom which began in the 1980s locating the origins of this boom in the crises associated with postmodernity and the rise of neoliberalism it analyses the complex interplay between neoliberalism postmodernism and nationalism in some of the most well known memorials and memorial museums to have emerged in the usa and germany over the last four decades rather than offering a survey of contemporary memorials it traces a specific trajectory and certainly not the only one ripe for analysis from the postmodern memorials of the 1980s to the increasingly monumental and authoritative memorials and memorial museums being constructed today developing a distinct interdisciplinary approach the book offers a critical analysis of the relationship between the memorials form the visitor experience they re intended to offer and the understanding of history and our relation to it which underpins their philosophical ethical and political stance questioning the notion that contemporary memorials are ambiguous non ideological and non nationalistic the book argues that they are engaged in rearticulating nationalism in line with the contradictory demands of the current conjuncture as well as critically analysing the political function of national memorials the book is equally concerned with interrogating the aesthetic means they employ with a specific focus on the way in which they mobilise the power of the sublime to generate particular affective responses the book argues that contemporary national memorials reflect one of the most significant convergences between postmodern thought and neoliberal ideology both project a permanent present urging us to recreate ourselves in the light of existing conditions for there is no alternative
